Briefings Fail To Silence All Policy Criticism

Most Congressmen Concur, However, With President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's briefings have not silenced all congressional critics of his Viet Nam policies, but the White House cites understanding with the legislative branch as one reason for cautious optimism.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., termed the sessions of lawmakers with the President and top officials an "exhibition of how the unpleasant can be evaded and the failures ignored." He said if efforts by United Nations Secretary-General U Thant do not succeed by next year, "the United States will be placed on a war footing entirely comparable to that of the Korean War."

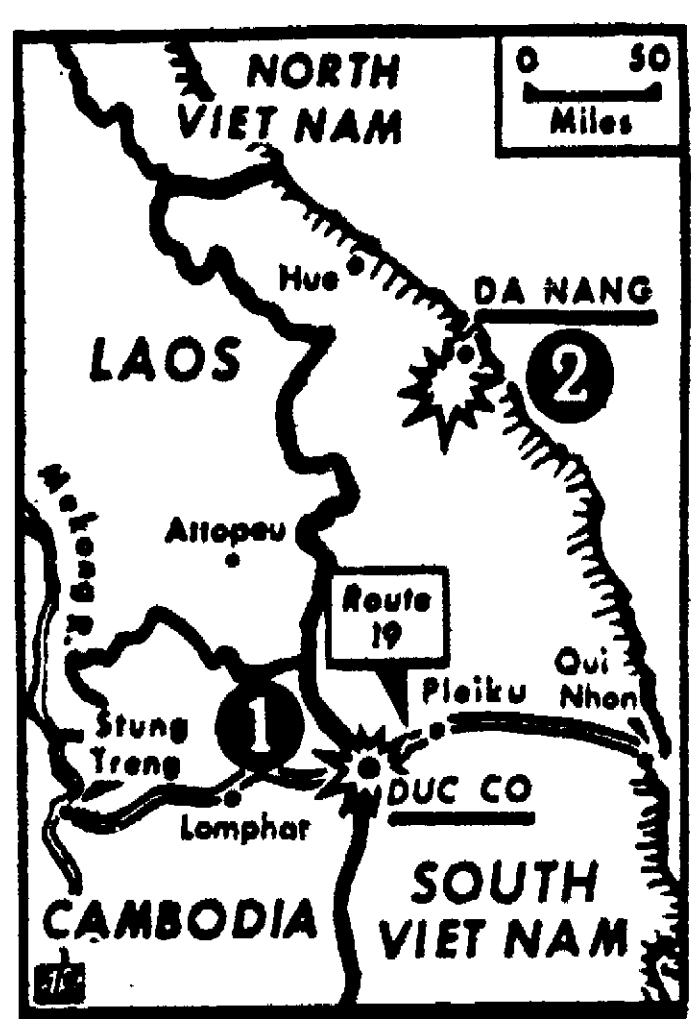

Morse spoke in the Senate Tuesday, a day which saw two briefings at the White House for House members, with a third scheduled today.

The Senate Republican leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, told a news conference he is satisfied Congress "is in substantial agreement with the President's policy."

Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, said in a speech to an International Air Cadet dinner the bombing of North Viet Nam is necessary "because the Communists are forcing our hand — because they intend to take over South Viet Nam and make this an example for the rest of Southeast Asia."

House leaders expressed cautious optimism after Tuesday's briefing, and later White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers was asked the basis for it.

He said understanding between the executive and legislative branches is helpful, reports have come through of increased Viet Cong losses and there is a feeling of general support in the country. But he said Johnson is not speaking glowingly of the situation at the briefings.

A Government Relief column on Route 19, between Pleiku and Duc Co (No. 1) today succeeded in lifting the siege on the outpost near the Cambodian border. In the north other Viet Cong guerrillas Tuesday poured mortar fire on U.S. Marines' positions near Da Nang (No. 2). (AP Wirephoto)

Vietnamese Soldiers Meet Little Viet Cong Resistance During Drive to Outpost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam strategic cross-country highway (AP) — U.S. military sources in way.

Pleiku reported a large Vietnamese relief force reached the besieged special forces camp at Duc Co tonight with little resistance from the Viet Cong.

A two-mile convoy of infantry and armored detachments had been fighting its way westward for three days through guerrilla ambushes and roadblocks in an effort to break the siege lines that have ringed Duc Co since June 3.

How many of these troops may have been involved in the final push was not disclosed. But at the last previous report all were within six miles of their goal, a western outpost 220 miles northeast of Saigon on a

The highway, Route 19, runs through the central highlands from the supply port of Qui Nhon on the South China Sea, to the Cambodian frontier at a point five miles west of Duc Co.

A dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Peter Arnett in Pleiku said that, despite the Viet Cong' closing push, the siege persisted.

The Viet Cong were reported to have moved in behind the relief force and again cut Route 19, the only land route to government-held territory, in several places.

Both government forces and the Viet Cong have suffered heavy casualties in the fighting in and around Duc Co, whose neighboring villages are all flying Viet Cong flags.

U.S. sources in Pleiku, the corps headquarters 30 miles northwest of Duc Co, said "We have been waiting for weeks for permission to clear the Viet Cong out of this natural highway from Cambodia into Viet Nam. We have enough forces there now to try and do the job."

Goldberg to Push for Red U.N. Monies

Congress Opposed To Quitting Effort For Russian Payment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg is finding in Congress strong opposition to any abandonment of efforts to force Russia to pay United Nations peace-keeping assessments.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said that as he interprets the sentiments of his colleagues they are "getting tired" of temporizing on the issue.

France and 11 other nations also are in arrears on peace-keeping assessments. But the congressional and other U.S. critics of the situation usually limit their fire to the Soviet Union.

Dirksen, who conferred with Goldberg privately, was asked at a news conference Tuesday if the administration was retreating from its position that the Russians must pay or lose their vote in the U.N. General Assembly.

He replied that so far as he was concerned he was thinking in terms of retaliation rather than retreat.

The avalanche crushed a camp where eight members of a ski patrol had been asleep.

Discotheque or Dis-clotheque?

MADISON (AP) — Police Chief Wilbur Emery asked the Madison City Council Tuesday night to set standards for dress and type of dancing permitted by discotheque tavern entertainers.

Emery said Madison has eight taverns offering the dance and noted receipt of complaints about performances and some entertainers who dance with patrons.

"Present ordinances are not adequate," the chief said, adding that there is little chance of obtaining convictions for obscene dancing or indecent exposure.

10.1 Per cent Higher in One Year

By OVID A. MARTIN WASHINGTON (AP) — The housewife who is paying a dime more for every dollar's worth of food than she did a year ago may be ready to swear whoever is responsible. But she may have trouble finding her target.

The Agriculture Department says different factors operated on different kinds of food staples, but the general explanation of a 10.1 per cent rise in prices is the usual one. Supplies were smaller than the demand.

Food fats and oils, for example, were in good supply in this country, but short elsewhere, so foreign customers came in and bid up prices here. On the other hand, pork supplies fell and prices rose because of purely domestic

Malaysian Leader Quits In Protest

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The secretary-general of the key faction in Malaysia's ruling coalition party resigned today to express his disapproval of the separation of Singapore from the Malaysian federation.

Dato Syed Ja'afar Albar, executive of the 500,000-member United Malay national organization of Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman, told a news conference:

"Malaysia without Singapore is illogical."

Missing Cook Remains a Mystery Jurisdiction Problem In 'Seven Seas' Crime

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Seven Seas, a swaybacked old banana boat whose last cargo was murder, has been unburied by one mystery.

But two others remain: Who has jurisdiction in the case, and what happened to the ship's cook?

Federal authorities said a crewman picked up Tuesday in the Gulf Stream in the Seven Seas' skiff told them he shot the captain and four shipmates after an argument with the skipper about Fidel Castro.

The man, Roberto Ramirez, 35, a former Cuban lobsterman, told officials he had defended the Cuban leader and that Capt. Rogelio Diaz threatened to turn him over to anti-Castro refugees when the Seven Seas reached Tampa, where it was headed for repairs after leaving Miami.

"Me or them?"

It was either "me or them," officials quoted Ramirez as saying. They said he told them he shot the captain and stalked off to shoot four other shipmates one by one as the vessel chugged southward Saturday night. Three were killed as they slept.

Ramirez said he threw the body of the captain and another shipmate overboard and then left the ship in the 14-foot aluminum skiff. He was found by a German freighter about 60 miles south of there drifting in the skiff, a 38-caliber pistol in his hand.

New Cabinet Post Approval Expected

Passage Due by Mid-Afternoon; Robert Weaver Likely to Get Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bill to create a cabinet department of housing and urban development comes up for a final vote in the Senate today. Passage is considered certain.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield won an agreement to limit the remaining debate on the bill which he said should bring passage by midafternoon.

Sponsors estimated about 55 to 60 of the 100 senators would support the high-priority administration measure in the showdown test.

But they were sufficiently concerned about the absence of 10 of the bill's backers Tuesday to delay the vote 24 hours.

The 11th Cabinet department that would be created by the bill is intended to deal with the increasing problems of urban areas in a country which is composed more and more of city and suburban dwellers.

Negro May Get Post

The core of the new department would be the existing Housing and Home Finance Agency headed by Robert C. Weaver. If Weaver should be named to the secretaryship, he would be the first Negro to serve in the Cabinet.

The Senate adopted two amendments to the bill Tuesday, both accepted by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., floor manager for the measure.

Oshkosh Race Driver Killed

25-Year-Old Man Fatally Injured in Demolition Event

OSHKOSH—Robert Madden, 25, 329 Wisconsin St., Oshkosh, died at 5:39 a.m. today as the result of injuries received during the demolition event of Tuesday night's stock car races at the Winnebago County Fairgrounds.

Madden had been critically injured at about 11:15 p.m. Tuesday when his car rolled over. He was partially thrown from the car and it rolled onto his head. Coroner Art C. Miller said he died of a basal cranial skull fracture.

The demolition race is a weekly feature which concludes the night's activities. The purpose of the race is to try to be the last car running. The cars in the demolition race are junkers.

1949 Chrysler

The car Madden was driving was a 1949 Chrysler owned by Henry Stenson, 32, 232 E. Parkway Ave., Oshkosh. Stenson had sent the title for the car to the motor vehicle department, advising them it was junked. The vehicle was equipped with a seat belt, but it had no shoulder harness, which is not required for the demolition race. Madden was wearing a safety helmet at the time of the accident.

A capacity crowd of about 4,000 witnessed the accident. It was the first death at the race track in memory.

Hollywood's Darkest Decade During 1950s

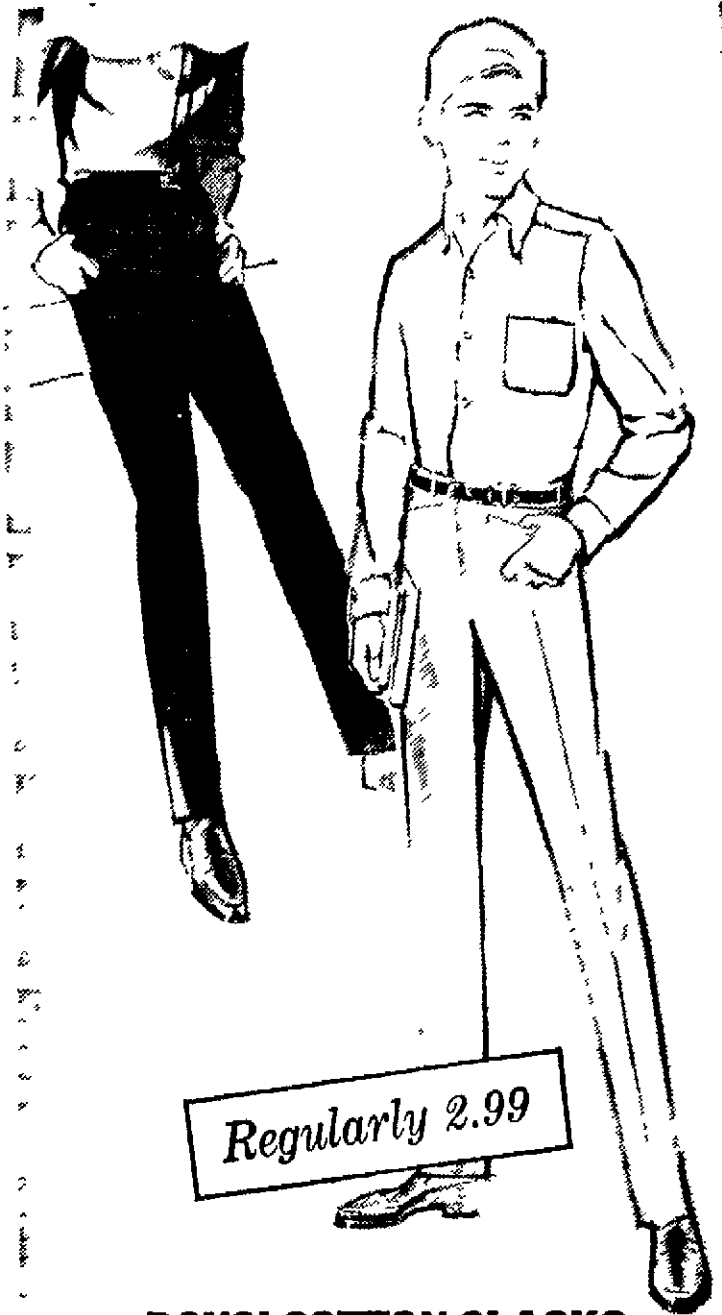

Many Things Worked Against Movie Industry, Including Foreign Films

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The public also lavished its leisure 1950s were Hollywood's dark decade. Everything seemed to conspire against the film industry. Television replaced movies as the entertainment habit. The public also lavished its leisure and cash on travel, do-it-yourself projects and a host of other distractions. Foreign films with few censorship restrictions, were cutting into the world market.

With costs rising and attendance slashed in half, some studios flirted with bankruptcy. The companies tried 3-D, wide screens, even smellies. Nothing worked for long. RKO and Republic ceased operations as film producers. Other companies slaved alive only by making TV films, selling real estate, drilling for oil and dumping old movies into television.

Preminger refused to cut the words "virgin" and "seduce" from the script, the production code refused a seal. The National Legion of Decency condemned the film. "The Moon Is Blue" turned into a big money-maker. The conviction grew among producers that films would have to come to grips with sex. A maverick Viennese was to lead them. In 1952, Otto Preminger made a film version of a seemingly harmless sex play, "The Moon Is Blue." Because the code had to be updated. The big change came in 1968 when revisions provided that Miscegenation was no longer banned, abortion, white slavery and dope addiction could be treated with certain restrictions. swear words could be injected when dramatically valid. The code retained bans on sex perversion, venereal disease, sex hygiene and nudity and added a ukase against open-mouthed kissing. Franker films drew alarm from the keepers of public morality, but they also sparked renewed public interest in movies. No star did more to incite that interest during the 1950s than Marilyn Monroe. She was a girl with a whispery voice that made her seem all the sexier. In reality, she spoke softly out of sheer fright. Yet Marilyn had an air of in-born naturalness that made her sexiness seem like the real article. Marilyn symbolized the new attitude toward sex in films. She feared her career would be ruined when it was revealed that she had once posed in the nude. Her career boomed after the news, and later she cheerfully autographed the photos of herself nude on red velvet.

Negroes May Register

Ban on Literacy Test Lets Mrs. Jones Vote

EDITOR'S NOTE — Now that the federal government is moving to enforce the new voting rights law, what is the step-by-step procedure that a Negro goes through to register and vote in an area where that right was once denied? To bring the new legislation down to the personal level, this story tells of the case of a hypothetical Mrs. Jones.

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Jones couldn't vote in the November 1964 election. A state registrar told her she had flunked the Alabama literacy test. She is a Negro.

Now that the Voting Rights Act of 1965 is law, she knows she will be able to vote in the next election. She's over 21, a life-long resident of the state and never has been convicted of a felony.

She need never again take a literacy test or face that state registrar. Because her state produced a turnout below 50 per cent last November, the test is suspended by the new law.

U.S. Atty. G. Katzenbach has ordered Civil Service Commission examiners into Mrs. Jones' county — either on his own, because of its past performance, or because she and 19 other Negroes complained of being denied the right to vote because of their color.

Simple Form
Mrs. Jones goes before the federal examiner. He gives her a simple application form, which she completes with her name, address, age and the fact that she has never been convicted, without pardon, of a felony. If she can't read or write, the examiner questions her and fills out the form for her. If she can't sign her name to the oath on the form, she makes a mark.

The examiner accepts her $1.50 poll tax payment, since the federal government's court challenge of the tax's constitutionality is pending.

The state poll tax covers state and local elections.

The examiner hands her a certificate of eligibility and adds her name to his list of qualified voters. At the end of the month the list is made public, and once a month the new list is sent to the proper local and state election officials, who must add it to their own books.

What if the state attorney general goes to the U.S. Dist. Court in Washington to ask a three-judge panel to relieve the state from the effect of the law, contending Alabama's literacy test hasn't been used to discriminate for five years? The Justice Department would prepare to produce court rulings within the past five years that the tests were used to discriminate, either throughout the state or in any county within it.

What if the state legislature, meanwhile, tries to write a new law changing voter eligibility requirements? Before it can take effect, it must have the approval of the U.S. attorney general or the three-judge court in Washington.

Election day arrives, and Mrs. Jones goes to the polling place. The new law has protected her against intimidation and threat. It carries stiff penalties — up to 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine — for anyone who tries it or who tampers with her ballot.

The U.S. attorney general has been ready to seek a court injunction restraining anyone who tries to prevent her from voting. Federal poll watchers are in the polling place to observe the casting and counting of ballots. And if within 48 hours after the election Mrs. Jones complains to the attorney general that she was denied her vote because of her race, he can ask a federal court to freeze the results of the election until her vote is cast and counted.

Fastest Growing Business in U. S. — Industrial Espionage

NEW YORK (AP) — The business of spying on a competitor's business appears to be growing.

The latest case of industrial espionage involves Eugene Andrew Mayfield, 26 of Evanston, Ill. He is a former junior executive at Procter & Gamble.

He was accused of attempting to sell a $1-million secret plan of the company's Crest toothpaste to the Colgate-Palmolive Co. for $20,000. The incident took place four months after Mayfield quit Procter & Gamble.

Mayfield pleaded guilty Thursday in U.S. District Court in Brooklyn to a charge of using a telephone to further a dishonest scheme.

He faces a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine. Sentencing was set for next month.

Spying Increasing
In March, businessmen attending a New York meeting of the American Management Association were told by one speaker that "industrial espionage is a growing factor in business today."

The Harvard Business Review recently noted that 27 per cent of companies responding to a survey reported espionage had been discovered in their industries. And 20 per cent of this group said they felt spying was on the increase.

To steal a competitor's secrets, a spy can eavesdrop electronically by "bugging" briefcases, hotel rooms, telephone lines and even martinis.

Business executives have been given advice on how to dodge the spy when holding important conferences. It is wise, the advice goes, to talk in whispers. Switching the volume on a radio or television set up high and turning on the shower also helps.

Considered Unethical
Although it is common practice, a recent survey of business espionage said: "The majority of serious businessmen consider spying as unethical."

The Mayfield case involved a meeting in a men's room at Kennedy Airport, the transfer of $20,000 in marked bills and the theft of the buyer's trousers to permit the seller to escape. The FBI set a trap.

Four months after leaving Procter & Gamble, the government said, he called an executive with Colgate in New York whom he knew and offered to sell the 168-page marketing strategy for Crest's 1964-65 operations.

The Colgate man agreed to pay, but the company first told the FBI.

The government said that, by prearrangement, Mayfield and the Colgate man went into adjoining stalls of the airport men's room, on Nov. 14, 1964, the money was exchanged, and then Mayfield demanded that the other man hand over his trousers.

As Mayfield stepped out, he was arrested.

Board Okays Time Changes In Kimberly

Religion Classes, Bus Schedule Listed as Cause for New Hours

KIMBERLY — The board of education Monday night approved changes in school class times for youngsters attending Janssen or Ryan Elementary schools. Combined Locks, thus making it possible for the children to receive religious instructions during the school day. Hours are before school opens or after it closes.

Times for attendance at the Kimberly schools were also changed to permit bus scheduling for children from Kimberly and Combined Locks. In most cases, the daily hour attendance suggested by the state, has been met.

New Schedule
Kindergarten children at Ryan and Janssen will attend school daily from 9 to 11:30 a.m. or 1 to 3:30 p.m.; first graders will attend from 9 to 11:45 a.m. and 12:45 to 3:20 p.m.; second graders from 9 to 11:55 a.m. and 12:45 to 3:20 p.m.; third and fourth graders from 9 a.m. to noon and 12:45 to 3:20 p.m.; fifth graders from 9 a.m. to 12:10 p.m. and 12:45 to 3:20 p.m.; and sixth graders from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. and 12:45 to 3:20 p.m.

At Kimberly kindergarten classes will be from 8:45 to 11:05 a.m. and 1 to 3:30 p.m. All remaining grades through sixth will meet at 8:45 a.m. with first graders dismissed at 11:20, second and third graders at 11:25 and each of the remaining grades five minutes later per grade. Students in grades one through six will attend afternoon classes from 12:45 to 3:30 p.m.

Question of 24-Hour Protection

Outagamie Board Tables Resolution to Add Five Men to County Patrol Staff

After hearing Outagamie County Traffic Patrol Sgt. Lowell Veitch say he doesn't think more patrolmen are needed, the county board Tuesday afternoon laid over until September a committee resolution which would add five new patrolmen and establish 24-hour police protection in the county.

"If the board sees fit to let us run our own department," Veitch said, "and allows us $1,200 or $1,500 overtime each year, we can do the job with what we have now."

Veitch has been acting head of the department since late May when Capt. Ronald Decker became ill.

Spice Disagrees
Sheriff Calvin Spice said, "I disagree with the sergeant that we don't need more men. 'God knows,' the sheriff said, "that we'll never have too many men. If people know there are police on the highway 24 hours a day, they'll be more careful and more cautious. And there is more business starting up throughout the county and these businesses are entitled to protection."

Spice said there are "a lot of things happening now in the early morning hours that aren't being discovered until after 7 a.m."

In addition to adding five extra patrolmen to bring the total up to 16, the committee's resolution said all county traffic patrolmen should have the powers and duties of a police officer. It also specified that enough money should be included in the 1966 budget to pay for additional patrolmen's salaries.

With 16 patrolmen, plus the captain, Supv. John Schreier (Appleton 6), committee chairman, said, "there could be four shifts of four men each."

Four Sections
He explained that for patrol purposes, the county is divided into four sections. Schreier said his committee's plan would make one patrolman available for each section on each eight-hour shift. Patrolmen would work a 48-hour week, he explained, with six days on then two days off. The extra four patrolmen crew would allow for four crews would alternate on 7 a.m. to 4 p.m., 3 p.m. to 11 p.m. be prohibited on the east side of and 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. shifts. Richmond Street from Packard Avenue north for 100 feet and hour police protection." Schreier said that parking be prohibited on the west side of Richmond from Lorain to Packard.

The only part of the committee's plan that Spice disagreed with was the placement of manpower.

"I believe," he said, "that the schedule should be worked out so that more men would be available to provide protection during the busiest hours and in the busiest areas of the county."

The sheriff said when Outagamie County originally went to a 12-man patrol, neighboring Winnebago County had only eight patrolmen. "Now they have 18," he said, "and we still have only 12, and Brown County has many more men than Winnebago County."

Veitch "Embarrassed"
Veitch said the courts, justice and enforcement committee resolution put him "in an embarrassing position. Someone's trying to do us a favor and we're not even aware of it. We've never been consulted. 'As far as four men to a shift,' he said, "we're covering the county better than that now."

He said the department now has one patrolman assigned to zones 1 and 2 and two men each for zones 3 and 4. And, he said, there is a "floating" patrolman and a "floating" sergeant."

However, under questioning from Supv. Eugene Kloes (Appleton 4), Veitch admitted the present department staff couldn't provide 24-hour service.

"You're probably the first police officer in history," Kloes said to Veitch, "who ever said 'I don't need more help.'"

Veitch answered, "I may be 30 years behind the times, but I'm a taxpayer, too, and with that resolution you passed this morning, you'll be adding $75,000 a year before you even get the new men on the road."

The resolution Veitch referred to was one authorizing the courts, justice and enforcement committee to advertise for bids to the cars.

The amendment which refers report back to the board in the proposal back to the committee with instructions to consult with department heads from the present policy of letting patrolmen own their own cars to a system of county-owned squad cars.

County Pays Expenses
Presently, patrolmen are allowed to cruise up to 3,100 miles a month. They receive eight cents a mile for the first 2,000 miles and 7 cents thereafter. In the future needs of the district, enlargement of the student body is also planned to meet expanding enrollments.

Transfer From Parochial Unit Brings $425,000 Public Project
KIMBERLY — In an effort to solve the problem of handling over 200 second graders who will be transferred from Holy Name of Jesus Catholic school to the public school next year, the board of education Monday night adopted a resolution to complete the second floor of the high school.

Board members authorized Ray Hamann, school superintendent, to engage an architect to utilize these rooms as classrooms for elementary students, and approved plans for a referendum at which voters will be asked to approve borrowing of $425,000 to complete the second floor of the high school. It is expected the referendum will be held late in September.

In addition to completing the second floor the music and industrial arts facilities will be expanded as the original areas were not designed to handle alone would necessitate at least six additional classrooms.

Utilization of the second floor of the high school for two years of elementary education would give additional time for private schools to solve their building problems and to provide the public school authorities time to study the elementary enrollment picture.

Increased Band Interest
Increased interest in band and projected plans for an improved musical program necessitates enlarging of music facilities, noted board members. The industrial arts area must be expanded to serve the non-college bound students. Students would receive a series of shop experiences and additional shop course would be available to all boys. This would permit more student participation courses rather than a teacher-dominated program, said the superintendent.

He also said, if the area vocational school plan should not prove feasible, the larger shop area would provide additional training in vocational skills thus making a more intelligent citizen in an industrial society.

Marines 6-Month Plan Has Openings
The 7th Engineer Squadron, U. S. Marine Corps Reserves, announced today that it has 13 openings in the six months active duty program and that a delay of up to 120 days can be granted in reporting for active duty.

These 13 openings must be filled during the month of August.

The unit is located at the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center on the Fox River opposite Prange's. Phone is 431-4311. Extension 248.

Board members indicated, every effort would be made to find a name which would prove satisfactory to as many citizens as possible.

Both sides had been deadlocked over a no-strike, no-lockout clause the company had requested in the contract, but it was not announced how this difference was resolved.

Reportedly the new contract contains provisions for a raise of more than 11 cents the first year and 12 cents the second year.

Meanwhile, machinists remain on strike at Allis Chalmers Appleton Works.

A spokesman for the union said there were no plans for further meetings. That strike began July 11.

Ex-UW Journalism Building Hit By Fire

MADISON (AP) — Firemen from seven Madison companies fought a stubborn blaze that caused extensive damage today to the former Journalism School building on the University of Wisconsin campus.

Origin of the fire was not immediately determined and an estimate of the damage was not available. A Southwest wind toward nearby Lake Mendota kept the fire from spreading to adjoining buildings. The structure is on Observatory Drive a short distance from Memorial Union on South Park Street.

The building was not being used. The school is operating in a new campus facility.

Wilmer Schultz, 48, Victim of Gunshot Wound Tuesday

Wilmer Schultz, 48, 825 W. Parkway, died Tuesday apparently the victim of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Schultz body was found about 4:30 p.m. in his home by his wife after she returned from work.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said Schultz died about noon. A .22 caliber rifle was found nearby the body, and a single shot had been discharged.

Schultz died of a shot fired into his chest from point-blank range.

Mental Exam Ordered In Plymouth Murder

SHEBOYGAN (AP)—Sheboygan County Judge John Buchen has ordered a mental examination for John Meyer, 64, of rural Plymouth, charged with first degree murder in the July 4 shotgun death of his employer.

Meyer is accused in the slaying of Erwin Haut, 66, on Haut's rural Plymouth farm.

Judge Buchen Tuesday ordered the tests made by Dr. Edward Houlek, a Sheboygan psychiatrist, and set a preliminary hearing for Thursday.

49 Blocks Would be Affected if Council Okays Recommendation Made by Groups in 5-4 Vote

Parallel parking on a city-wide basis, effective upon approval of the city council, was recommended at a joint meeting, of the council's Public Safety Committee and City Parking Commission Tuesday night.

If the council approves the recommendation, 49 blocks and portions of seven other blocks will be affected.

The motion, introduced by Willard C. Johnson of the parking commission, passed by a 5-4 vote. Mayor Clarence Mitchell providing the needed vote for passage.

Johnson proposed the motion after a discussion which had dealt primarily with the parking problem on College Avenue. Prior to Johnson's proposal, Ald. John Ayers (2th) had proposed that the committee and commission go on record as favoring parallel parking on College Avenue. He withdrew the motion however, when Mitchell asked him what blocks would be included.

Customers Prefer It
Johnson said the customers "have shown their preference" for parallel parking through surveys conducted by the police department and The Post-Crescent.

The police department's terminals disagreed with this conclusion, saying that they have talked to "a lot of people" who want angle parking on College Avenue. They felt College Avenue would become a "race track" if parallel parking were adopted.

Walter Rasmussen, city planner, told the group "the city needs four lanes of traffic on College Avenue, and we can't do

Appleton Police Warn of Phony Subscription Sales

Appleton police today warned the city's residents to beware of a phony newspaper subscription salesman who apparently has been operating here.

Mrs. James Nieland, 131 S. Memorial Drive, complained to police the man sold her a subscription to the Sunday Milwaukee Journal.

She said she paid the man $3 for a three-month subscription to the newspaper. She said when the paper was not delivered as promised, she called a number the man had given her.

The person at that number knew nothing of the subscription or of anyone by the name given her, she said.

Street Parking Ban Suggested By Two Groups

Restriction of parking on Washington Street between Appleton and Superior streets was recommended Tuesday night by both the Public Safety Committee and the City Parking Commission.

The move, which would be temporary, is an attempt to eliminate traffic congestion during rush hours.

The recommendation calls for the conversion of six meters on the south side of Washington between Appleton and Superior streets to 15-minute meters and prohibiting parking on the north side of Washington between 7 a.m. and 9 a.m. and 3 and 7 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Appleton Asks Extension Right For Services

City Officials To Urge Governor To Sign Bill

Appleton city officials will travel to Madison Thursday to attempt to get Gov. Warren Knowles to sign into law a bill that would give cities the right to choose when and where they should extend municipal services outside their corporate limits.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell, Public Works Director Robert Bues, City Planner Walter Rasmussen, and Assistant City Atty. Dennis Herrling will attempt to convince the governor of the bill's necessity.

Bill 293, introduced at the request of the City of Appleton, was recently passed by the Senate and Assembly and is now before the governor awaiting his signature.

The bill was introduced after the Public Service Commission, which opposes the bill, ordered the City of Appleton to supply water to a church in the Town of Menasha. The city is fighting the PSC decision in the Dane County Court.

Controversial Bill
Several weeks ago Mitchell received a letter from the governor's legal counsel, Arvid A. Sather, pointing out the legislation was quite controversial.

Sather pointed out that the PSC, in a letter to Sen. Busby of Milwaukee, said in part:

"We believe the bill will unduly permit municipalities to pick and choose whom it will serve in an unincorporated area. From the standpoint of sound utility management and regulation, we question whether the bill is in the public interest. Hence, the Public Service Commission is opposed to this bill."

Sather informed Mitchell that the governor would discuss the bill with Assemblyman Harold Froelich, Appleton, who introduced it.

Sather also assured Mitchell that the PSC position would not control the eventual decision of Gov. Knowles.

Flash Fire at Appleton Paper Company Dryer

A small flash fire in a dryer occurred this morning at Appleton Coated Paper Co. in the solvent coating division plant.

The fire was concentrated in the exhaust for the second zone. Safety doors and panels were opened in the area and one sprinkler discharged alerting the Appleton Fire Department which answered the call.

However, the burning paper going through the dryer was extinguished by men of the department Arthur Katlan, mill manager, said there were no injuries and damage was moderate, confined mostly to water damage.

Green Bay Runaways Found by Outagamie Authorities Today

Two 16-year-old girls, believed to be runaways from Good Shepherd Home in Green Bay, were in custody of Outagamie County authorities after they were found walking along State 54 early today.

The girls were two of four reported missing from the home. A county traffic patrolman spotted them about 1:45 a.m. today.

Brown County authorities were expected to pick the girls up today and return them to the home.

Kimberly Okays Loan of $400,000

Money Needed to Meet School Expenses Until Next January

KIMBERLY — The board of education Monday night authorized the borrowing of a maximum of $400,000 at three and one-half per cent interest to enable the school district to meet obligations until tax money becomes available after Jan. 1.

This is an annual procedure function until taxes are paid. The school district budget is drawn in July, but funds from municipalities are not available until January, thus necessitating borrowing procedure. A $400,000 maximum was set although school authorities indicated it was doubtful the total amount would be borrowed.

The interest also could be lower, depending on the availability of money, according to bankers who will handle the loan.

Approval was given for hiring

Mrs. Dorothy Kobs as Junior High School secretary, with beginning salary set at $260 per month plus $10 per month increase after six months' service and another $10 per month raise after one year.

New Pickup Truck

Fox Valley Truck Service, Appleton, was awarded a contract for a new pickup truck at low bid of $1,700. Three bids were received, high being $1,961. Elm Tree Bakery was awarded the contract to furnish bread for the hot lunch program at low bid of 17 cents per pound and one-half loaf. High of the four bids was 22 cents.

Schaefer Dairy was awarded milk bid at a cost of 4.5 cents less three per cent for half pints and 72 cents per bulk gallon. High of four bids was five cents per half pint and 73.5 cents per gallon.

Meat bid went to Eiting Grocery with a bid of 69 cents for beef chunks, 45 cents for ground beef and 49 cents for pork. Two other bids were received, one the same in beef chunks, higher in ground beef and lower in pork and the second lower in beef chunks but higher in ground beef and pork.

Other Bids

Bids on physical education were accepted with six firms sharing in the purchase of 27 pieces of equipment, total cost being slightly more than $2,843.

In most cases the board accepted the low bid on the item which met specifications. Six firms submitted bids.

Seven firms submitted bids on 16 pieces of industrial arts equipment and four firms shared in low bids for equipment amounting to about $595. Four firms submitted bids on general teaching supplies and all shared in bids on 25 items totaling slightly more than $1,279.

Myron Huth, business manager, was instructed to investigate insurance rates of various firms for student insurance after an increase was noted in the rates supplied by the firm carrying the insurance last year. He is to report to the board prior to the Aug. 23 meeting.

Frank-Pat's Win First Round Crown

NEENAH — Frank & Pat's Pizza won the first round championship in the Mid-State Open Softball League with a 5-0 blanking of Oscar's Inc. at Fond du Lac Tuesday night.

The triumph gave the Twin Citizens a final 6-0 record. Oscar's, which had a chance to deadlock for the title, finished with 4-2.

The Twin Citizens rode to victory on the strong right arm of Fred Fuller, who limited the Fondy squad to single hits in the second and sixth innings. He struck out 14 and walked two.

The winners only made four hits off Oscar's Dave Christianson but used three in the innings in which they tallied their runs.

Former American Can President

Sund Elected Executive Of Champion Papers, Inc.

MENASHA — Roy J. Sund, 222 Butte des Morts Dr., former president of American Can Co., was elected executive vice president and director of Champion Papers, Inc., Hamilton, Ohio, at a meeting of the Champion board of directors Monday.

Sund's position will become effective Sept. 1, according to Karl R. Bendetsen, chairman and president of the Ohio paper firm.

Upon taking office, Sund will be appointed head of the paper division of Champion, with the additional title of president of that division.

"We are most fortunate to have a man with Roy Sund's exceptional experience and record of achievement as a top executive join us as a senior officer of Champion," Bendetsen said in making the announcement.

In his 41 years of experience — 36 of which were with Marathon Corp. before and after it was acquired by American Can Co. in 1958 — Sund held positions as vice president, executive vice president and head of Marathon before being called to the presidency of American Can Co. in 1960. He resigned the presidency of American Can in November, 1964.

A lifelong resident of Wisconsin, Sund will have his main office in Hamilton, Ohio, which

Final Highway Aids From State Paid to Fox Valley Counties

The third and final payment of 1965 highway aids have been sent to five Fox Valley counties by the state highway commission.

Outagamie County has received $127,241; Calumet, $45,248; paper mills in Canton, N.C. and Winnebago, $114,172; Waupaca, $99,081, and Brown, $133,538.

The aids are used for improvements to county trunk highways.

Appleton Ordinance Committee Split on Private Club License Fees

Alleged Error Made When Non-Profit Group Liquor and Beer Licenses Were Raised $100

The question of whether the $200 fee was too much," A.D. admit an earlier error in raising Class B fermented malt and liquor licenses fees by refunding at least $25 to "private" club owners, or whether the mistake should be taken care of merely by lower club fees in the future, was discussed at the Appleton City Council's Welfare and Ordinance Committee meeting at City Hall Tuesday night.

Because the four members split on the issue, no decision was reached at the meeting. The alleged error was made last year when the committee recommended raising license fees for the eight Appleton clubs from $100 to $200 per year, while tavern fees received only a $25 hike from $150 to $175.

Ald. Richard G. Huisman (First) admitted he had voted for the previous increases benefiting the clubs, as non-profit organizations, paid no taxes and therefore should pay the city for the benefit of using licenses. It was discovered Tuesday, however, that the clubs pay property taxes. It was conceded that clubs and taverns should all pay the same amount — $175.

The matter will be taken up again when Chairman Ald. R. P. Groh (eighth) is present and can break the tie.

Racing Pigeons — Authorizing the city health department to make inspections and give permits for individuals keeping racing pigeons within the city limits was discussed. A relating to parking restriction on city streets.

Community Benefit — Beyer agreed with the "benefit to the community" idea, adding, "Show me another tavern that has such good liquor for the community."

MBA Planning Night Sale, Corn Roast

MENASHA — The Menasha Business Associates is planning a "Moonlight Madness" promotion which will coincide with an old fashioned corn roast Thursday, Aug. 26.

Stores will be open from 7 to 11 p.m., and corn will be sold from grills on various corners about the business area, according to Herb Steidl, chairman.

Serving on the program committee are Gilbert Drucks, Richard Anderson, Jack Williams, John Konrad and Don Dery.

The Thursday evening meeting of the MBA was attended by 15 of the organization's 50 members.

Constantine May Try Coalition to End Greek Crisis

ATHENS (AP) — King Constantine was reported seeking today a coalition government to try to ease the Greek political crisis.

The young king's second effort at forming a government was thwarted when Stephanos Stephanopoulos, bowing to the wishes of his ex-Premier George Papandreu's Center Union party, rejected the king's mandate Tuesday.

Reports circulated that Constantine might call a crown council of political leaders, but without Papandreu and the Communist-line United Democratic Left (EDA) party.

Political advisers to the 25-year-old king were said to be encouraged by the fact that, at the Center Union party caucus Monday, 26 deputies had voted for Stephanopoulos to try forming a government. Another 116 voted against, and Stephanopoulos went along with the majority, turning down the king's request.

The winners only made four hits off Oscar's Dave Christianson but used three in the innings in which they tallied their runs.

Thailand Government Issues Directive to Wipe Out Red Brigands

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The Thai government issued orders today to wipe out a band of Communist terrorists operating in Thailand's underdeveloped northeastern provinces.

The government did not spell out its measures, but Interior Minister Praphas Chrusathien said:

"We cannot allow this sort of thing to grow. We have learned a lesson from neighboring countries that terrorist bands like these must not be allowed to become bigger."

'Dirksen Amendment' Sponsor Optimistic

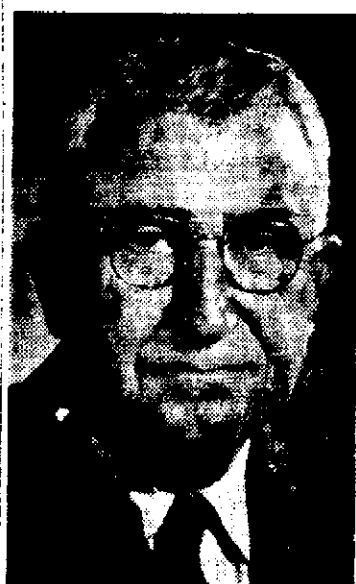

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen says he expects to pick up more support for a revised version of his proposed constitutional amendment to allow states to apportion one house of their legislature on other than a straight population basis.

The Republican Senate leader said Tuesday he will offer the new bill to the Senate Judiciary Committee. The original version of his legislation failed by seven votes in the Senate last week. It was aimed at bypassing the Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" decision.

Heavy Rain Eases 2-Month Drought in New England

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rain has broken the two-month long drought in Maine and eased conditions in other parts of New England. Thunderstorms rumbled across the region Tuesday with heavy rain, hail and strong winds in some sections. More than two inches of rain fell in central parts of Maine. Showers had hit most drought areas of the Northeast since Sunday. Amherst, Mass., was doused with 4.5 inches of rain in 24 hours.

Thunderstorms continued today along sections of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and in Western mountain areas. Thunderstorms were reported in scattered parts of the Southeast Tuesday with heavy rain, hail and strong winds in some sections. More than two inches of rain fell in central parts of Maine. Showers had hit most drought areas of the Northeast since Sunday. Amherst, Mass., was doused with 4.5 inches of rain in 24 hours.

Children's Concert Held At Peninsula Festival

LaVahn Maesch's 'Suite on Children's Tunes'
Delights Audience of Young Music Lovers

BY JACK RUDOLPH Post-Crescent News Service
FISH CREEK — Once upon a time there was a little boy whose friends all called him Blondie (they still do, but for a different reason). The little boy knew a lot of children's songs, and when he grew up he didn't forget.

One day (way back in 1938) he made up a musical piece about some of the old songs because he thought other boys and girls might enjoy them, too. Tuesday afternoon a lot of them did, thanks to a sparkling after-performance of LaVahn (Blondie) Maesch's "Suite on Children's Tunes" during the Peninsula Music Festival's annual Young People's Concert.

Maesch, Appleton, is director of the Lawrence University conservatory of music. Not Easy Work In the process he offered what the boys and girls who heard the piece (some of them were older than Blondie) could be thankful, though, that they didn't have to learn it. The Maesch suite may be based on children's tunes but it is not a child's play.

The three-movement work is loaded with tricky variations on the themes, bouncing from one section of the orchestra to another on a complex rhythmic pattern that darts unpredictably in all directions. Even the three blind animal cookie mice scamper about in the finale as if they can see better than anybody else.

Middle Lullaby Contrasting this cheerful, in-exhaustible energy of childhood is the lovely middle section, an unhurried, crooning lullaby.

The suite, first work of the present dean of the Lawrence University music department to be presented here, was one of a number of interesting highlights of the annual opportunity to introduce his audience, large and small, to some of the lesser known instruments, building the program around the trombone.

Trombone Concerto In the process he offered what the American premiere of Henri Tomasi's older than Blondie) could be thankful, though, that they didn't have to learn it. The Maesch suite may be based on children's tunes but it is not a child's play.

Lutherans Will Start Facility For Retarded

Wisconsin Synod
To Establish Board
To Oversee Project

WATERTOWN — Delegates to the 38th biennial convention of the 358,000 member Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod meeting here authorized the appointment of a board of directors to establish an institution for the full time care of the mentally retarded. It is estimated on the basis of statistical incidence that there are about 10,000 cases of mental retardation among the 358,000 synod of this number, according to experts, about 1,000 are in need of institutional care. Evaluation Okayed The proposed board of directors was authorized to evaluate a suggestion that such an institution be established in connection with the Wisconsin Lutheran Convalescent Home in Milwaukee. The kind of institution suggested is a type to provide custodial care for the older mentally retarded. The delegates were told that such a home would be a "stepping stone to a full program of care for the mentally retarded." The Wisconsin synod uses the Bethesda Lutheran Home, Watertown, an institution for the mentally retarded, supported by the synods formerly affiliated with the Lutheran Synodical Conference. According to its executive director, Dr. Clarence F. Golisch, there are 111 mentally retarded from the Wisconsin Synod in the home and a waiting list of 41.

Drunkenness Appears Most At Menominee Day in Court

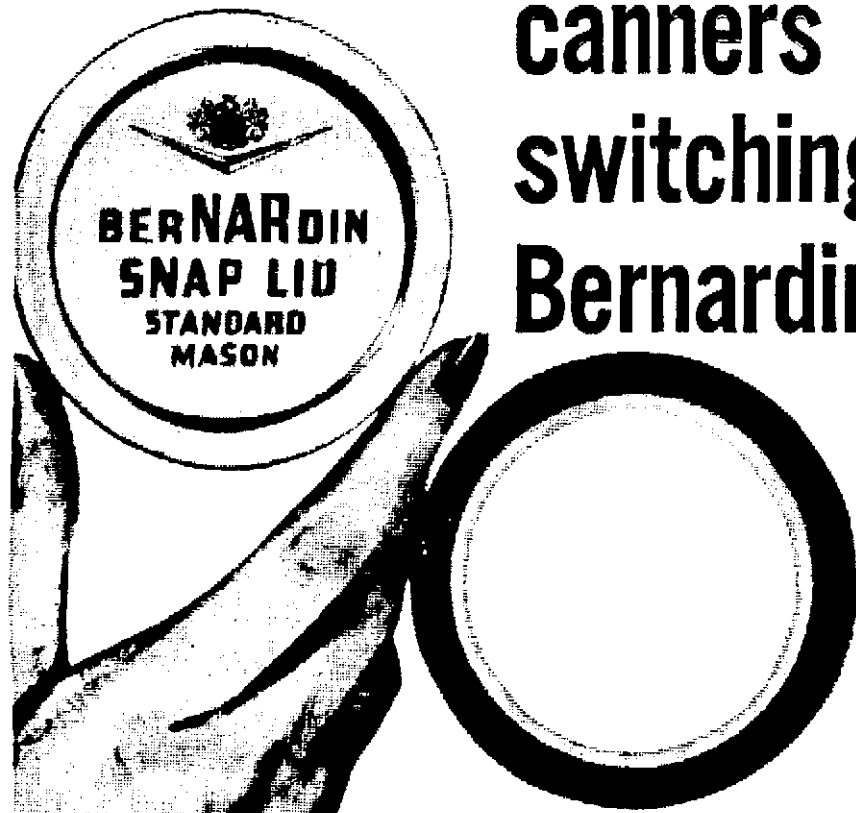

Cases Numerous, but Trend Is Favorable, County Judge Says

BY RAY PAGEL
Post-Crescent News Service
KESHENA—Drunken driving was the charge, and the plea was guilty.
"According to the drunkometer test you really had a load," said the judge, "and you're out to go after the money."
"We haven't had very good results with that. You can use a telephone at the jail."
Next was another young man, non-support this time. He was working in Milwaukee $2 an hour, wife and four children.

abandoned not yet a year ago against the peace and dignity of the State of Wisconsin."
Presentence investigation was ordered.
"Somebody is going to support those kids, and it isn't going to be the Welfare Department," the judge said.
Jailed For Night
It was Menominee Day in the Shawano courthouse for Judge Ken Traeger of Shawano-Menominee County Court. Most defendants had spent the night in Shawano's fine new jail.
A man and wife drew 60 days, but who would take care of their baby, the man wondered.
"Who takes care of the baby while your wife is drinking, and dignified. No talking back to the black-robed judge: the judge said, "But there was nothing

"The Indians don't give me any trouble in jail," Sheriff Carl Krueger said. "They usually qualify for good behavior, and the Hubers don't walk away too often. And they don't hold grudges."
Drinking, the sheriff declared, is usually the immediate reason when the Menominees tangle with the law.
"They're only likely to give you trouble just before you lock them up," he added.
Lloyd G. Andrews, Shawano County district attorney, said court business involving Menominees has been "pretty normal" during the past year.
"We mean that it used to be worse. Most offenses, he said, are petty in nature."
Stems From Drinking
Judge Traeger, who gave the reporter a good hour of his time, agreed.
"Practically all of it stems from drinking," he asserted. "We have quite a few disorderly conducts, a few battery cases. And then there are drunken driving and driving after revocation."
He reported a definite decline from the heavy drinking of earlier years. Now the Indians are permitted to drink in bars, and beer is available in Menominee County. That's better, he said, than drinking hard liquor straight out of the bottle.
"Since beer, we have had a marked decrease in stolen cars. They used to get drunk and look for a car to get home."
Improved, too, according to the judge, is family life. For many years under federal supervision, he noted, divorce was easy and not much could be done to require support of minor children. With the father gone and no money, often the mother would take off, too. That has been changed since the Indians came under state law.
Kindly Persons
"The Indian as a whole is a kindly person, easy to get along with. What they need more than anything else is the right kind of guidance. They need education to work for the better things," Judge Traeger declared.
What about discrimination, prejudice? Is the white man's attitude hampering the Indian? You get various answers.
Frank Meyer, public relations man for the Consolidated Badger Cooperative in Shawano, put it like this:
"There is some subtle discrimination in neighboring towns, and the Indians seem to feel it."
A white woman in a Shawano liquor store said only a few bars welcome the Indians. She does fair business with them on bottled goods. They buy some hard liquor, but mostly it's wine—sweet wines and the cheapest brands.
Education among the Menominees, and more about discrimination, will be discussed in the next article.

Southern Officials Consider Answers To Poll Tax Suits

1,144 Negroes Register to Vote On First Day of Federal Control

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Officials of Texas, Virginia and Alabama were examining government suits to abolish the poll tax today to determine what action to take.
In Texas, President Johnson's home state, Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr said he would file an answer after the necessary study and preparation.
Similar reactions were expressed in Virginia and Alabama.
The suits were filed by the Justice Department Tuesday, the same day federal examiners began registering Negroes to vote in nine Southern counties and parishes in Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi.
A Civil Service Commission spokesman in Washington said that 1,144 Negroes registered to vote on the first day of federally supervised registration under the 1965 voting rights law.
Negro Voting
Both the registration and the suits to abolish the poll tax are designed to make it easier for Negroes to vote.

Task Force Girds to Fight Confusion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has set up an antigobbedygook task force to battle for plain talk at the DoD. Whoops! That's gobbedygook for Department of Defense.
In a memorandum, Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus Vance referred to "the President's expressed interest in improving communications with the public by waging war on gobbedygook."
The memo said, "I am forming a task force to review attitudes, methods, and types (including written, telephone, as well as person-to-person contacts) of responses being made to the public by all components of DoD within the Washington area and worldwide."
If you tripped over that gobbedygookee DoD, take a look at just a couple of the abbreviations in the Pentagon's telephone list: AAFBD (Army & Air Force Exchange and Motion Picture Services Board of Directors) or USCONARC (United States Continental Army Command).
Solis Horwitz, assistant secretary of defense (administration), was named commander of the antigobbedygook task force. The group is to offer recommendations to Vance by Nov. 1.

Edge in Five Districts Mississippi Negro Votes Could Control Third of Legislature

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Negroes in Mississippi could control a third of the state legislative seats if they register as voters, an Associated Press survey showed today.
Negroes also outnumber whites in one of five congressional districts.
Federal voting registrars began enrolling Negroes in two Mississippi counties Tuesday and in Madison County — north of here — Negroes nearly doubled their voting strength in a single day.
There were 209 registered at Canton, with scores more told to come back today. The Justice Department said that before the federal registration began only 29 Negroes were registered.
Those 29 counties have 40 seats in the 122-member Mississippi House.
Negroes could elect 19 of the 52 state senators.
The delta district of Rep. Jamie L. Whitten, D-Miss., has 359,426 Negroes and 247,661 whites, or more Negroes than the entire population — 295,072 — of the east central Mississippi district of Rep. Prentiss Walker, R-Miss.
Whites outnumber Negroes in the state at large, with 1,257,546 whites and 915,743 Negroes. However, census authorities say the Negro voting age population is proportionately smaller than the total Negro population because Negroes continue to leave the state when they become adults.

Attends Hoover Memorial Nixon Mum on Plans For Political Future

Among Crowd
Nixon plunged into crowds seeking a glimpse of him and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. He shook hands and responded to cries of, "Hey, Dick!"
After a speech in which he called for stepped up American attacks on North Viet Nam, Nixon spent about 15 minutes autographing programs and snatches of paper urged upon him.
Eisenhower only once broke through the cordon of officers escorting him. As he entered the Hoover Presidential Library, he reached out both hands to well-wishers lining the sidewalk.

Desalinization Study Bill Gets Johnson Signature

$185 Million Measure Continues Program to Offset Water Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Water shortages—a present crisis in the Northeast and a long-term source of national anxiety—got White House attention today.
President Johnson signs a $185 million bill to continue and extend the Interior Department's program to develop practical means of desalting ocean water as a supplement to the overtaxed rivers, lakes and springs.
Later, Johnson meets with the governors, congressional delegations and mayors from four largely urban states that draw on the Delaware River Basin for water and may have critical shortages next month because of a four-year drought afflicting the area. The four states are New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware.
The saline water conversion bill, extending the program through 1972, has been pushed hard by Johnson. He told his science adviser to bear down on desalting programs "as if you knew you were going to run out of drinking water in the next six months." And the White House says further legislative proposals will be submitted next year.
The present bill authorizes an additional $15 million for research and development, making $35 million available for next year, counting carry-over conference was called after Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall reported to Johnson the biggest cities of New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey or a hurricane could do this.

Safety Device Went Awry in Silo Explosion

Air Force Secretary To Visit Site of Missile Disaster

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — Deep in an underground silo sheathing a Titan 2 missile some thing went awry with the safety devices.
An explosion and flames thundered through the "gun barrel" of the missile complex Monday afternoon, killing 53 civilian workers.
"These things are not supposed to happen," said Capt. Douglas Wood, public information officer for Little Rock Air Force Base, headquarters for the 18 missile sites in this region.
"We have many safety features, but the fact that it did happen contradicts these safety factors."
Heading an Air Force investigation ordered by President Johnson is Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert.
Sen. McClellan
Zuckert and Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., were due to arrive at the Little Rock airport today and head to the complex 10 miles northwest of Searcy.
An Air Force investigation team also is continuing its probe, begun after about 100 rescue workers finished the task of removing bodies from the smoke-filled 155-foot-deep silo.
There were only two survivors of the blast and flash fire which apparently erupted somewhere on or around the second or third levels of the nine-level complex where the workmen were renovating the site.
The missile, loaded with liquid fuel, was in the silo but did not burn. There was no danger of a nuclear explosion, Wood said, because the warhead had been removed while the construction crew was working on the complex. The Titan 2 is America's mightiest ballistic missile.

Family Exposed To Hepatitis Found in South

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — A Winston-Salem motorist flagged down a vacationing Texas family to end a cross-country search for the family's three children who had been exposed to infectious hepatitis.
Thomas Honeycutt said he heard a description of the H. C. Rogers car on a radio broadcast and noticed the car in Winston-Salem Tuesday night. The Rogers are from Huntsville, Tex.
Honeycutt led them to Baptist Hospital, where the children, two girls and a boy, were treated.
A Huntsville dentist who came down with hepatitis said he treated the children before the family left for a Washington, D.C., vacation Saturday.
State highway patrols were notified to watch for the family and a description of the car was furnished radio stations.
Rogers said the family would continue the trip.

High School to Try Consumer Economics

BY SYLVIA PORTER

— our glaring failure to provide even a minimum of consumer education in most U.S. high schools. By our negligence we are handicapping millions of our young men and women at the start of their marriages, jobs, how to budget and live within the budget, the value of insurance, how to figure interest on borrowing money, how to detect shoddy goods, how to resist high-pressure salesmanship, how to buy economically and intelligently . . .

Collie Decides Own Fate in Courtroom

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A Collie handed down the decision in magistrate's court Monday. The five-year-old dog was the subject of a court battle between Clifton Williams, 45, and his son, and Mrs. Alice Rivera, 31, a mother of four.

The Williamses claimed the dog was their "Prince." The Riverases insisted the animal's name was "Boy" and belonged to them.

Magistrate Samuel H. Lohman let the dog decide.

As both claimants stood against a wall as ordered by the magistrate, the dog was ushered into the courtroom and bounded toward Williams, leaping and wagging his tail.

When Mrs. Rivera called, "Boy," the dog walked around her and then dashed back to Williams.

Lohman awarded custody to Williams and his 14-year-old son, Clifton Jr.

Army Enlistments Up 54 Per Cent

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Army enlistments were up more than 54 per cent in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan, recruiting headquarters at Milwaukee said Tuesday, in what recruiters said was a reaction to the doubling of advertising and the "consumer chemistry" of everything from water softeners to insecticides and fertilizers.

One towering barrier to progress in this area is the apathy of tradition-bound, classics-oriented school administrators. Another is the drastic shortage of high school teachers with sufficient knowledge and training to teach even elementary consumer economics.

But "a school which provides no consumer education for its students," emphasizes James E. Union, "leaves to business and advertising the major responsibility of 'consumer training' these youths."

For most of the students who will seek full-time jobs and will marry soon after high school graduation, Mendenhall adds, "It is consumer education now — or never."

Viet Cong Worried About Chinese Aid

Vietnamese Seem to Prefer 20 Years of War to Assistance

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Special Correspondent

Viet Nam's Communists may be nervous about a possibility that they could get more Red Chinese help than they want in the Indochina war. Their behavior hints at a fear that Viet Nam might become a Korean-style battleground.

Their propaganda suggests that Vietnamese Communists would rather face a prospect of 20 more years of war than have their country overrun by hordes of Chinese militia, a possibility resented as a government enticed by Red Chinese state-ments. The Chinese occupied Viet Nam for centuries.

Both North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong's political front seem eager to get across a message that the Viet Cong can fight the war on their own, with help in materials but without manpower from the outside.

'New Phase'

Hanoi and the Viet Cong's front insist the war has entered a "new, decisive phase," and that even left to their own devices they cannot lose.

They insist the Viet Cong has all the strategic, political and psychological advantages and can now "strike repeatedly and vigorously" at the Americans. They claim the Viet Cong can frustrate moves to pacify rural areas. They issue calls to sympathizers in the South's cities for "repeated political attacks" on the Saigon administration. They broadcast appeals to the South's soldiers to "turn their guns on the Americans."

Since April, both Hanoi and the Viet Cong's front have been calling the Saigon government "the rebel regime." This may indicate an expectation that eventually there will be an appeal to a conference table, where they would want to assert the Viet Cong's right to be rep-resented as a government enti-cled by the rebel regime.

Soviet View

Possibly, Hanoi might like to draw closer to the Soviet view of the situation, if it could wrig-gle out from under the domina-tion of its big neighbor, Red China.

Though Moscow apparently is avoiding overt diplomatic moves, there are vague sugges-tions its thinking goes thus: It might be possible to guarantee South Viet Nam's independence and neutrality as a means of breaking the diplomatic im-passe and permitting eventual U.S. withdrawal.

Peking voices suspicions of Moscow's intentions. After ac-cusing the Russians of "begging the Americans for peace," Pek-ing says the only way to deal with the Americans is to "wage a tit for tat struggle." And Chi-na pointedly revives its specula-tion about the possibility of a new Korea.

Wisconsin to Have 'First' in Trade Mission

Gov. Knowles Will Go Abroad to Help State's Exporting

Post-Crescent Correspondent

MADISON—The Wisconsin trade mission to European countries starting Sept. 13 will be the first among such Amer-ican state trade delegations to explore business opportunities in Norway and Spain, Gov. War-ren Knowles said Monday.

Knowles announced a briefing session here Thursday for those businessmen who have thus far reserved tickets for the foreign trade mission, and said other places remain available for those who are interested in foreign exports and the estab-lishment of new markets for Wisconsin-made products abroad.

Knowles said Jack Olson, former lieutenant governor, has returned from Europe where he made arrangements for visits with businessmen and govern-mental officials, and receptions in such principal cities as Amsterdam, London, Oslo, Stockholm, Milan and Barcelo-na.

Basic Cost $1,200

The three-week tour, mostly by air, will start Sept. 13. About 90 reservations have been book-ed thus far. The basic cost per person is $1,200.

A similar tour was held last year under the leadership of Olson, who was then a state official.

The mission this year will be led by Gov. and Mrs. Knowles. Export opportunities to Europe are good for Wisconsin businessmen, Knowles said, on the basis of the experience of the Wisconsin trade delegates on the earlier mission.

It is doubtful that Red China would take the initiative in starting a Korea-style conflict unless, possibly, U.S. forces should directly invade North Viet Nam or Red Chinese terri-tory should be attacked.

But Red China is saying that with escalation, such a thing could happen. Its Liberation Army Daily said this week that U.S. policy threatens to spread the war first to North Viet Nam and then to China. It said China must make "fullest prepara-tions," including building up the effectiveness of its militia under army direction. Such forces conceivably could be tomor-row's "volunteers."

Biggest Wage Raises Given During Year

Business-Labor
Ending Period of Turbulent Relations

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — A turbulent year in labor-management relations is nearing its climax.

Labor has piled up so far this year its biggest average wage increases in five years. Idleness from strikes also has been the highest since 1960. And the biggest cliffhanger—the threat of a steel strike—is nearing its final episode.

Steel users have done about all they can in the way of ordering the metal to be ready if a strike comes Sept. 1. Now the pressure is on the mills to push steel shipment in the weeks remaining to fill the orders that have piled up.

What will happen Sept. 1 may be still uncertain, but what will happen after that is pretty well taken for granted. There'll be a meltdown in new orders for steel. Users won't be pressing for early delivery. Whether there's a strike or not they'll be dipping into stocks on hand.

Crucial Mark

However the steel wage contract negotiations turn out—strike, eleventh-hour agreement, government intervention or pressure, higher wages followed by higher steel prices—the year already is making its mark as one of the most crucial for labor in this decade.

Bargaining has been tougher than a few years back. Both sides, unions and employers, have been harder to move.

The Labor Department says that in the first six months there were 2,020 work stoppages affecting 852,000 employees with a loss of 11 million man-days of labor. The idleness was the highest since the first half of 1960.

But where settlements were negotiated, general wage increases set a median of 8.3 cents an hour, the highest since the first half of 1960 when the figure was 9.2 cents. The Bureau of National Affairs reports that in manufacturing the median negotiated wage increase in the first six months was 7.5 cents, and in nonmanufacturing 10.2 cents.

Fringe Benefits

Fringe benefits also played a bigger role this year than last. Pension and insurance plans averaged higher than last year. Reduction in work weeks was about the same both this year and last.

But this month sees the labor-management encounter that has most captured public attention—steel. The public is interested because of the belief that the new steel wage contract may set a pattern for other industries. And if wages are boosted notably, and prices follow suit, there is fear of a renewed wage-price spiral for industry in general. This could lead to a revival of inflation, and a still higher level for the cost of living.

Most steel users are reported to have built up enough of a stockpile to last for 45 to 60 days. After that a steel strike would quickly cripple the general economy. If there's no strike, most steel users are expected to reduce their stockpiles gradually, and this slowdown in steel mill activity will lower the overall industrial production index.

A this gives steel a major role in setting the course of the economy in the final quarter of the year. And the outcome of the steel labor-management bargaining may set patterns for a much longer period.

Chance for New Federal Judgeship
In State Improved

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Likelihood that the Eastern District of Wisconsin will receive one of the 44 new federal judicial positions appeared brighter Tuesday with reports that a third courtroom would be readied on the fourth floor of the Federal Building in Milwaukee.

The new judgeship would be a temporary post which would exist only for the lifetime of the person appointed to fill it, but Wisconsin Congressmen have expressed hope that it eventually would be made permanent.

No Injuries In Car-Truck Crash North of Chilton

CHILTON — Neither driver was injured in an accident involving a car driven by Engelbert Lenz, 7, 64 Columbia, Chilton, and the semi-trailer truck driven by Charles Stauber, 38, Green Bay, at 10:10 a.m. Monday at the north city limits on State 57.

Lenz told Calumet County police he was traveling north and started to make a right turn into Hillside and St. Mary Cemetery when the collision occurred.

Stauber said he had pulled his truck along side of the car on the right side when it turned in front of him.

COOL FOODS for hot days

Post-Crescent Food Editor

As summer wears on into August and the hot days seem suddenly hotter, there's always a sense of pleasant surprise when the menu reverses itself. The palate is renewed and suddenly there is a lift to otherwise lagging appetites. Hot soups of winter can be transformed into cool, cool bisques . . . creams . . . purees of surpassing delicate richness and even a gourmet look when served cold on beds of ice and in colorful pottery mugs or glassware.

Looks can be important to the appetite, particularly on a warmish day when even the thought of food is tiresome. Soups served in glasses become both handsome and food-appealing . . . the glasses may be tall water tumblers . . . old fashioned . . . goblets or even crystal-clear mugs.

To round out the frosty soup idea into a full menu for a hot day, we suggest a collection of excellent soups to contrast with two hot, easy-to-make and make-ahead casseroles. Actually the recipes are variations of shrimp and rice . . . one served with chicken and the other without.

Either of the shrimp-rice dishes, teamed with an icy cold soup, go well with a tossed salad or an avocado salad. For dessert, serve either fresh fruit or Melon Balls Flambe, included in today's menu recipes.

The soups are spectacular both in taste and ease of preparation. We suggest the cold soup recipes all be clipped for future use . . . they are that good. They are prepared two ways . . . both easy.

Five of the soups have a base of simple and wholesome nonfat dry milk crystals. Teamed with water cress, canned tuna, chicken and curry powder, avocado and chives, clams and crushed thyme, green peas and pimiento - stuffed olives they make an array of soups truly sublime. These tested recipes have come from home economists with a nationally known milk processing firm.

The other soups are one-two-three easy, from another home economist friend in the canned soup industry. These combine different soups with a dash of this and that to achieve some rather unusual "gourmet" results. Many modern cooks are old hands at canned soup blending . . . it's a wonderful way to start becoming a creative cook . . . failures are few and far between.

The recipes today start off with the two casserole variations, the avocado salad and melon ball dessert, then continue with the several cold soup recipes.

RICE-SHRIMP CASSEROLE

- 3 cups cooked rice
- 1 pound cooked shrimp, shelled and deveined
- 1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes
- 1 green pepper, cut in strips
- 2 teaspoons salt
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon garlic powder
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon savory

Combine rice, shrimp, tomatoes and green pepper; stir in salt, garlic powder and savory. Place mixture in $1\frac{1}{2}$ -quart casserole. Cover and refrigerate until dinnertime. Bake in 375-degree oven 30 to 35 minutes, or until peppers are tender. Recipe makes four servings.

CHICKEN AND SHRIMP WITH RICE

- 2 pounds chicken parts
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter or margarine
- 1 small green pepper, chopped
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- $1\frac{3}{4}$ cups canned tomatoes
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup water or tomato juice
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup rice
- 1 teaspoon salt
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon chili powder
- $\frac{1}{2}$ pound cooked shrimp
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sliced stuffed olives

Brown chicken in melted butter or margarine in Dutch oven; remove; add green pepper, onion and garlic; cook for 10 minutes. Add tomatoes, water or tomato juice, rice, seasonings and browned chicken pieces; cover and simmer for about 30 minutes or until chicken is tender and rice is cooked. Add shrimp and olives; cook for another five minutes. Recipe makes four to five servings.

MELON BALLS FLAMBE

- 1 package (12 ounces) frozen melon balls
- 1 pint lemon sherbet or ice sugar cubes
- lemon extract

Divide melon balls into four individual brandy snifters or dessert dishes; place lemon sherbet on top. Soak sugar cubes in lemon extract; just before serving, place sugar

Use Thin Coating to Keep Grain

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q Is it possible to paint unfinished furniture with a color, yet have the grain showing at the same time?

A Perfectly possible. Pick out the color you want, then thin it with the paint thinner recommended on the label. Experiment with small amounts before thinning the entire can of paint (or enamel).

Too much thinner will make the results watery and call for quite a few additional coats. Too thick will probably hide the wood grain.

Q The floor of our shower enclosure has become quite slippery. Probably accumulated soap film is the main reason. But once I get it scrubbed clean, how can I keep it from becoming slippery again?

A Many hotels and motels solve this problem by fastening strips of adhesive-backed non-skid materials to the floors of showers and bottoms of bathtubs.

Arranged in rows, about an inch apart, these strips give sure-footed traction. This material is available at hardware stores and housewares sections of department stores and supermarkets.

Q A heavy lamp stood for several days on a leather-topped coffee table. The edges of the base left dents in the leather which I can't remove. Can you suggest a method?

A An old-fashioned chamois covered nail buffer is the most effective tool you can rub on the dents. If you no longer have one of these, wrap the bowl of a spoon with soft chamois and rub with this.

Use a gentle, circular motion. In reasonably short order the dents should disappear.

Q The motor of my refrigerator seems to run more than it used to. Also more frequent defrostings are needed. I suspect the rubber seal around the door is the cause, but how can I be sure (outside of having it replaced)?

A You're probably right, and here's a good rule-of-thumb method of finding out: Hold a dollar bill half in, half out, and close the door on it.

If you can't pull the bill out, that part of the door seal is O.K. Move the bill slightly and repeat. Any place where you can pull out the bill while the door is closed means that the seal is no longer solid, so warm house air can leak in.

Mark this spot with chalk, and continue around the entire door. At each weak spot, build up the rubber with a short length of plastic electrician's tape, until the dollar bill is tightly gripped. Then the entire door seal should be tight again.

Your Problems

Wealthy Parents Not Obligated To Give Money to Children

BY ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Why are wealthy parents so stingy with their money? I have friends whose parents are loaded yet they don't give their kids a dime just because they are over 21. They seem to think just because they raised their kids and put them through college that's enough.

The children are not bums or loafers. They are respectable, hard-working citizens. They make a decent living but they work like slaves to do it. In the meantime their parents live like royalty. They'll never be able to spend all their money if they live to be 150.

Why don't rich parents give their kids money now — when they can use it, instead of waiting till they die and then pay the government a big chunk in inheritance taxes?

Please publish your answer. Maybe it will loosen up some tight-fisted old fogies. — K. C. M.

Dear K. C. M.: Wealthy parents don't owe their children fistfuls of money. You say your friends are respectable and making a decent living. If they are self-respecting as well they would refuse to be subsidized by their parents.

Unearned money can be a curse — a crippling influence that robs individuals of initiative and fills them with guilt. Each of us knows a bright and capable man who was denied the satisfaction of making it on his own because his father handed him a bundle. This "robbing by giving" technique often results in bitter resentment on both sides — and I am four square against it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have lived on a farm for 23 years. All my life I've been taking care of animals and I know a great deal more about animals than the average person.

My fiance was born in the city. He does not know nearly as much about animals as I do. The problem is this: George says when a horse is born he has full grown legs. He says the legs get heavier and stronger but not longer. I know he is wrong but he won't listen. We argue about this all the time.

Do you think this is a sign we won't be able to get along after we are married? If we can't agree on such a small matter how will we manage the big important problems? — Nag-ative Reaction.

Dear Nag-ative: Horses are not born with full grown legs. Anyone who has seen a colt beside his mother should be able to figure this one out.

You don't say how old you are but you both sound like 10-year-olds. It's pointless to argue about something that can be easily settled by an authority — so pointless that I suggest you are too darn young (emotionally, for sure) to even be thinking about marriage.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Five months ago our neighbors were having marital problems. I made the big mistake of taking sides. The day they separated the wife came over and called trophe me a meddlesome old witch and suggested that I had my eyes on her husband. She ended her tirade by screaming, "If you had kept your big nose out of our business we could have worked things out."

Now the husband is pestering me to death and I can't get rid of him. He drops over here when he knows my husband is not at home which must look bad to the neighbors. When he telephones me just to chat I have to pretend it is my brother calling and this makes me very uncomfortable.

How can I get him to leave me alone? — Canadian Catas.

Dear Canadian: If you real-

Postpone Finesse in Other's Suit

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

It usually pays to postpone a finesse in the enemy's suit. Sometimes the finesse goes away if you pay no attention to it. Sometimes you are saved because the missing high card turns out to be a singleton or part of a doubleton.

When West leads the ten of hearts you are tempted to play dummy's jack. Even if East produces the queen, you can still win with the ace.

This is no advantage. If you take that first heart trick so full of honors, West is just one trick away from establishing his suit. He gets in with one ace to force out the king of hearts, and West gets in with the other ace in time to defeat the contract with the rest of his hearts.

You can make the contract by playing a low heart from dummy at the first trick instead of the jack. Take the ace of hearts and lead a minor suit.

If East has one of the missing aces and you happen to lead that suit first, he will be unable to lead hearts up to dummy's king-jack. To put it another way, the finesse may go away if you pay no attention to it.

Useful Shortness

In this case West has both aces and therefore gets in no matter which suit you lead first. West continues with another heart, and this time you try the finesse with dummy's jack (since you cannot tell that the queen is blank).

"Big deal," you complain. "What's the difference between losing to the queen of hearts early or late?"

The difference is game. When you lose the heart finesse late, East is out of hearts and cannot return the suit. No matter what East returns you have time to force out West's other ace and thus make sure of ten tricks.

UW Seminar For Home Arts Teachers Set

More than 175 high school home economics teachers will work on revising their way of teaching classes during a workshop at the University of Wisconsin from August 9 to Friday.

Dr. Pauline Garrett, head of home economics education at the University of Missouri is the guest workshop leader. Dr. Garrett will give several papers on research and trends in the field and then will consult with the workgroups. The conference is expected to provide impetus for the curriculum revision now taking place in Wisconsin. Sponsors of the conference are the School of Home Economics at the University and the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education.

Marriage Promises Exchanged

KAUKAUNA — Wedding promises were repeated by Miss Betty Mae Schumacher and Alfred Miller at 9 a.m. Thursday at St. John Catholic Church, Little Chute. The nuptial high mass was celebrated by the Rev. Martin Vosbeek.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schumacher, route 1, Kaukauna. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilkum, Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. Robert Miller, route 4, Appleton, the bridegroom's sister-in-law, acted as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Mirkes, Mrs. Bernard Schumacher and Miss Jane Van Grinsvin. Miss Patricia Ann Leisgang was flower girl.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Robert Miller, route 4, Appleton, as best man. Groomsmen were Robert Mirkes and Bernard and Roger Schumacher. Richard Schumacher and Bernard Miller shared ushering duties.

Pine Castle Ballroom was the setting for a reception.

Mrs. Miller is a nurses' aid at the Modern Convalescent Home, Appleton. Her husband is with Robert Bennett's Auto Body Repair Shop, Hortonville.

Traditions Live

While most of the traditions associated with weddings have been with us for a very long time, only a few have survived the years unchanged. One of these is the traditional gift of sterling silver flatware to the bride from her parents; even in ancient Greece, silver was an important part of the dowry. Another is the wedding ring as a symbol of marriage. To the early Egyptians, as to us, the ring was a symbol of eternity.

In the Pink

Next time chicken is on the menu, serve pretty pink rice as a change of taste. Just substitute bottled cranberry juice for half the water used in preparing the rice, and it will have a lovely color and a tantalizing, unusual flavor.

AVOCADO SALAD WITH TANGY DRESSING

1 teaspoon chopped onion
3 ripe avocados
Salad greens

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup salad or olive oil
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cider vinegar
2 tablespoons ketchup
1 teaspoon chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon chili powder

Cut avocados in halves lengthwise; peel and remove seeds. Arrange halves on bed of greens and serve with dressing spooned into cavities of fruit or served in bowl.

To make the dressing combine all ingredients in second portion of recipe. Place in bottle or jar and shake well before serving.

MID-SUMMER BOUILLON

2 cans (10 $\frac{1}{2}$ ounces each) condensed beef broth
Limes

Cracked ice or ice cubes

Pour beef broth, right from the can, into large glasses filled with ice; peel limes; add lime juice to taste. Stir. Garnish with lime peel. Recipe makes four to five servings.

MUSHROOM-DILL SOUP

1 can (10 $\frac{1}{2}$ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 soup can milk
3 teaspoons chopped fresh dill

Sour cream, if desired

In bowl, blend soup and milk. Stir in dill. Place in refrigerator for at least four hours. Serve in chilled bowls; garnish with sour cream. Recipe makes two to three servings.

CELERY-ASPARAGUS SOUP

1 can condensed cream of asparagus soup
1 can condensed cream of celery soup
1 can cold water
1 can cold milk

Paprika for garnish

Chill cans of soup before opening; have water very cold and milk chilled before measuring into soup cans. Combine all. Shake or blend until smooth. Serve in tall glasses or pre-chilled pottery mugs. Garnish with a dash of paprika. Recipe makes from four to six servings depending on size of containers.

PUREE MONGOL SOUP

1 can condensed tomato soup
1 can condensed green pea soup
1 can cold milk
1 can cold water
Dash curry powder
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Chill canned soups; combine contents of two soup cans with cold milk and water. Shake or blend smooth. Add curry powder and lemon juice blending again. Pour into tall glasses. Recipe makes about four servings.

CHILLED WATER CRESS SOUP

3 chicken bouillon cubes
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped scallions or green onions
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup flour
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons monosodium glutamate
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons celery salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon white pepper
5 cups water
1 cup whole milk
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups instant nonfat dry milk crystals
1 cup finely chopped water cress

Add bouillon cubes and scallions to butter; cook over low heat until scallions are tender. Mix in flour and seasonings. Gradually add three cups of the water. Cook and stir until mixture boils one minute. Remove from heat. Stir in remaining water, whole milk and instant crystals. Blend in water cress. Chill. Garnish with water cress, if desired. Recipe makes eight to 10 servings.

CREAM OF CURRIED CHICKEN SOUP

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup flour
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon curry powder
1 quart reliquefied instant nonfat dry milk crystals (according to package directions)
1 cup or 1 can (6 ounces) diced cooked chicken
1 cup chicken broth or bouillon
1 tablespoon chopped chives
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon crushed rosemary
1 tablespoon lemon juice
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped toasted almonds

Melt butter in saucepan, stir in flour, salt and curry. Over medium heat, gradually stir in reliquefied instant crystals. Bring to boil, boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Cool. Combine remaining ingredients in electric blender. Blend until smooth. Stir into instant crystal mixture. Chill thoroughly. If desired, garnish with almonds and parsley. Serve chilled. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

SPANISH OLIVE AND PEA SOUP

2 tablespoons butter
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons flour
5 cups reliquefied instant nonfat dry milk crystals (according to package directions)
Dash pepper
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen green peas.

Melt butter in saucepan, stir in onion, salt and cayenne. Stir instant crystals into 3 cups of the water, then add gradually. Stir over medium heat until soup boils 1 minute. Cool. Blend avocado with lemon juice, chives and remaining 1 cup water in electric blender. Blend avocado puree into soup; cover and chill. Garnish. Recipe makes about six servings. Note: Avocado may be sieved or forced through food mill instead of using electric blender.

cooked and drained
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives
Salt

Sour cream, for garnish

Melt butter in saucepan. Add onion, cook until crisp-tender. Remove onion (leaving butter in saucepan) and set aside. Blend flour into melted butter. Over medium heat gradually stir in 4 cups reliquefied instant crystals. Add pepper. Boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Chill in electric blender, blend remaining reliquefied instant crystals, onion, peas and olives until smooth; stir into chilled mixture. Salt to taste. Chill thoroughly. Garnish with sour cream and additional sliced olives, if desired. Recipe makes eight.

CHILLED CLAM BISQUE

1 medium onion, finely chopped
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup flour
2 cups instant nonfat dry milk crystals
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cups water
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon crushed thyme
Dash white pepper
1 bottle (8 ounces) clam juice
1 can (7 $\frac{1}{2}$ ounces) minced clams, undrained
1 tablespoon chopped chives, for garnish

Cook onion in butter until tender, mix in flour. Stir instant crystals into water, slowly add with seasonings. Stir over medium heat until soup thickens and boils 1 minute. Mix in clam juice and clams cover and chill. Garnish. Recipe makes eight to 12 servings.

Sof-twisting is the secret

- MORE FLAVOR
- LONGER LASTING FRESHNESS

Sof-twist
IS A BETTER BREAD!

- Two pieces of enriched dough are shaped into long soft delicate rolls.
- They're twisted gently, reducing air pockets and giving finer texture.
- Twisted dough is placed in pans for slow rising—lightening the twist. Seals in freshness and flavor.
- Left slice completely seals texture cells. Ordinary slice on right permits drying air to pass through.

Bathing Children Separately Causes Shame, Mom Claims

Dear Dr. Jones: Why the other way or leave the room? Wouldn't we parents bath our children while my husband and I are together? We have two children, a boy, 4, and a girl, 3. I'd we have always bathed the children together and they have a good time playing together in the tub.

We have never overemphasized sex to either child, nor have we tried to underemphasize it. My boy has asked some questions which we have answered truthfully and openly. I'd we have explained the differences between male and female to him in understandable, feel self-conscious about seeing their parents whenever he asks. He each other when they're undressed. My husband and I think it's natural. That's why I'd like to know why you're against our way of doing things. Mrs. H. H. Jones children are not required to look at the age of 6 being afraid my father or brother would see me undressed. I remember the adults and children or between boys and girls.

The best way to help your children keep from feeling ashamed and self-conscious is to protect them from situations dealing with nudity have all their emotional reactions ready been realized. Now it's your son is troubled, else he about other important matters.

And the fact that you don't report any comments or questions made by your daughter suggests either that you aren't paying attention to her or else that she's so confused by now that she doesn't dare open her mouth.

Because you're kidding yourself and you're forcing artificial adult standards upon your children. Let them take separate baths or else have them wear swimsuits in the tub. And get dressed before appearing in front of children. Whatever benefits possible from your past way of protecting them from situations dealing with nudity have all their emotional reactions ready been realized. Now it's your son is troubled, else he about other important matters.

The best way to help your children keep from feeling ashamed and self-conscious is to protect them from situations dealing with nudity have all their emotional reactions ready been realized. Now it's your son is troubled, else he about other important matters.

'Surveyor' Model Is Shot Toward 'Moon'

permitted about 20 hours of tracking. A similar attempt failed last March 2 when the 112-foot-tall rocket exploded into a massive fireball on its launch pad after a fuel valve closed inexplicably. That was the third failure in five Atlas-Centaur test firings.

After passing through the imaginary moon early Saturday, the payload of today's shot is intended to continue circling the globe in a great looping orbit ranging out to about 500,000 miles.

The Ranger series of spacecraft photographed the moon from close range and then crashed on the surface. The pictures did not answer the question whether the surface is strong enough to support manned landings.

Most experts believe man can safely land there, but some feel a spaceship might be swallowed in a sea of dust or otherwise be damaged by a weak surface structure. It will be up to the seven-shot Surveyor series to find.

The Surveyors will use reverse rockets to slow their speed as they approach the moon so they can land gently. The first Surveyor is to provide basic data on surface strength and take pictures. Later surveyors will carry scientific instruments to dig up and analyze soil samples, measure moonquakes and make other observations for up to 30 days.

Mother of Quintuplets Holds Babies

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — The mother of New Zealand's quintuplets held two of her babies for the first time today and then went home from the hospital.

Shirley Ann Lawson gave birth to Deborah and Shirlene. It was the first time she was allowed to touch any of the five babies born July 27.

The 26-year-old mother said she was "overawed by the experience."

"The babies are so wobbly I felt nervous," she said, "but it's marvelous to hold them."

Mrs. Lawson telephoned her husband, Sam, and told him to come to National Women's Hospital for her "as soon as possible."

"I am just dying to get home after four months away," she told newsmen. "I am not worried about how I will cope when the quintuplets come home. Once we get into the routine I am sure it will be all right."

"I don't know yet what nursing help I'll have but the nurse helped me with the first baby. I want the babies to be mine, not any body else's."

Mrs. Lawson has one other child, a 5-year-old daughter, Jo Ann.

Besieged Forces Met by Vietnamese met little resistance as it moved into Duc Co in heavy fighting Tuesday and Monday. There were many casualties and the Viet Cong succeeded in splitting the armored part of the column from an infantry task force.

The airstrip at Duc Co was still judged unusable late today, U.S. sources said. There were hopes that by Thursday the relief forces would have cleared a sufficient area around the strip to permit supplies to be sent in.

U.S. spokesmen said 40 guerrillas were killed and 2 captured in other ground actions reported today. These included:

—A clash near Tam Ky, 360 miles northeast of Saigon, 15 Viet Cong killed and the bodies left behind, government casualties "light."

—Twelve more Viet Cong killed in a search and destroy operation near Quang Ngai City, 325 miles northeast of Saigon. Fourteen other guerrillas had been reported killed previously in that action.

—No Casualties —A clash about 10 miles west of Nha Trang, 13 Viet Cong killed and the bodies left behind, 2 guerrillas and 11 captured. No government casualties reported.

In the Mekong Delta south of Saigon, the Viet Cong continued harassment of government outposts, watchtowers and district towns in Chuong Thien Province. Nineteen installations have been hit by mortar or other fire in the past seven days.

Two outposts and a district town were attacked Tuesday night. Government casualties were termed light at one outpost and none was reported at the other two installations. Viet Cong casualties, if any, were not known.

A U.S. briefing officer said the series of light attacks appeared to be static harassment rather than a buildup.

Australian troops wound up a five-day search and destroy operation in the Communist-controlled D Zone north of Saigon, and reported four Viet Cong killed and five Viet Cong villages, about seven tons of rice and a hundred pounds of salt destroyed. An announcement said Australian casualties were "very light."

U.S. spokesmen said U.S. and Vietnamese planes destroyed more than 120 buildings in South Viet Nam during the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. and a "large number" of Viet Cong were believed to have been killed.

One U.S. Air Force F105 was lost today in an air strike against North Viet Nam, but the pilot, Capt. Lawrence D. Wilson of Cleveland, Ohio, was reported picked up unharmed from the South China Sea off Vinh.

An Army helicopter rescued him within 10 minutes, spokesmen said.

Briefing officers did not say whether Wilson's Thunderchief was hit by ground fire or suffered mechanical trouble.

State Girl Free After Picketing Arrest in South —SOMERVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Six women, including a University of Wisconsin student, are free today on $350 bond each after being bound over to the Fayette County grand jury in connection with the picketing of a Negro school.

The six, two white and four Negro women, are charged with "wilfully disturbing an assembly meant for educational purposes." They include Judith Eisencher, 18, Milwaukee, daughter of former Milwaukee County Communist Party chairman Sigmund G. Eisencher.

we are not fighting with bullets but a verbal war."

Rahman had said the political battle between the two governments, if not halted, would have led to racial bloodshed.

"I don't think this would have happened," Albar said. "People here are very disciplined. The verbal war is better than separation."

"I am afraid now Singapore will become a center of subversion."

"How can you leave out a territory right on your doorstep?" Rahman is president of the United Malay organization.

In Singapore, the new island nation's foreign minister, S. Rajaratnam, said his government would try to convince Indonesia it should live in peace and friendship with Malaysia, its arch foe.

Role of Mediator —But there is no question of Singapore playing the role of mediator between the two countries," Rajaratnam said in an interview reviewing Singapore's prospective foreign policy.

"As we are now out of Malaysia, perhaps Indonesia may be prepared to listen to us in regard to the necessity for living in peace and friendliness with Malaysia."

In Jakarta, however, Indonesian President Sukarno was reported as determined as ever to crush the Malaysian federation.

Sukarno conferred in Jakarta Tuesday night with government and military aides on the break between Singapore and the rest of the federation. Foreign Minister Subandrio said the break was a "victory for our confrontation, but we should be on the alert against efforts of Neocolonialism, Colonialism and Imperialism to create a new misleading device in order to frustrate our crush Malaysia campaign."

British Bases —Subandrio said his government finds it difficult to recognize Singapore in view of the presence of Britain's military bases there.

"If Singapore is a military base which is hostile toward us, it would be difficult for us to recognize it," he told newsmen.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson said his government will continue to support Malaysia against Indonesia despite Singapore's secession.

New Berlin Man Killed In Michigan Accident —OWOSSO, Mich. (AP)—A New Berlin, Wis., driver, Evoy G. Berg, 33, was killed Tuesday when his car missed a turn at a rural intersection and ran off the road.

Nursing Mothers Must Avoid Certain Drugs

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: After nursing my baby for three months, I discontinued for a month because I was taking antibiotics for an infection. During this time I removed my milk with a breast pump.
Since I want to nurse the baby for at least nine or ten months, I have resumed, but my milk supply has decreased to about half. Can this be increased?
What foods and medicines should a nursing mother avoid? — Mrs. M. B.

Dr. Molner

narcotics; stimulants as found in appetite-control pills, "pep pills," and the like; penicillin and other antibiotics. An occasional aspirin, or something to overcome a mildly upset stomach, would be permissible.
Some drugs are excreted in the milk. Therefore avoid any of them that are taken continuously, unless you have specific instructions from your physician.

Dear Dr. Molner: My father has emphysema along with a very bad heart condition. I have heard of a respirator, which helped a friend who has emphysema. Would this instrument be beneficial to my father or would it overtax his heart? — Miss L. D.

A certain type of respirator is often helpful in emphysema. I see no reason why it would be harmful to the heart; the reverse, if anything, would be the case. However, the wise thing would be for your father to ask his doctor whether a respirator would be helpful.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read an article about a hormone pill for older women to regain the appearance and feelings of youth. Is there such a thing? — Mrs. O. W.

Let's not exaggerate. Ponce de Leon went searching for a "fountain of youth" but that was back in the days when of female hormones, even well people still seriously believed in past menopause.

This does not mean that witchcraft, magic potions and alchemy.
Hormones can be very helpful, but they can be dangerous if used promiscuously. The amount and the proper type must be supervised and determined by your doctor, and medications with any substantial hormone content must be obtained on prescription.
There is some evidence that older women benefit from use of hormones should be taken only with a realistic understanding of what is possible and wise. So should over-enthusiastic art.

Lutheran Unit Withdrawal Is Reconfirmed

WATERTOWN — Delegates to the 38th biennial convention of the Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod meeting here reconfirmed Monday without dissenting vote the synod's withdrawal from the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod with false doctrine. The floor committee of the convention on doctrinal matters pointed out that "the Synodical Conference has failed to set forth any Scriptural reasons which would compel us to reconsider the basis for the Synod's withdrawal."
The Wisconsin Synod withdrew from the Synodical Conference in 1963, charging the conference with false doctrine. The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod had withdrawn previously.

Curt Motton Homers Hawks Hand Foxes Second Consecutive Double Loss, 4-3, 3-0

WATERLOO, Ia. — The Fox Cities Foxes' skid in the Midwest League continued in high gear Tuesday night as Waterloo swept both ends of a double-header, 4-3 and 3-0.

It was the second night in a row that the Foxes dropped a twin bill, and the club is now 9½ games behind leading Burlington.

The Foxes and Waterloo will play a single game tonight, with Ted Miller slated to take the mound for the Foxes.

Winning Run

Waterloo came up with a run in the last of the seventh for a 4-3 win in the first game last night. After two walks, Steve Herman came in to relieve for the Foxes. Ed McGuinness beat out an infield hit to load the bases and Neil Hutchinson drove a long fly to right on which Gordon Avery tagged up at third and scored the winning run.

The Foxes had taken a 3-0 lead in the third inning when Elmore Hill drove in Ken Gay from second with a single and Curt Motton followed with a 350-foot home run over the left field wall.

The Hawks came back to tie the score in the fourth when Joe Silvonic and Jim Williams singled and Avery followed with a homer to left.

Darrell Bunge was the winning pitcher for Waterloo, his seventh victory against five losses. Rawls was the loser.

Held to 3 Hits

Ron Klimkowski held the Foxes to three hits while picking up his 10th win of the season for Waterloo in the second game. He fanned eight batters and did not issue a walk.

Larry Connell was the loser for the Foxes.

The Foxes had only one hit until the sixth inning when Ken Gay doubled as a pinch-hitter. He got as far as third on a wild pitch but was left stranded. Hill doubled to lead off the seventh but failed to advance when Klimkowski struck out the next two batters and got the third out on a grounder.

Twins Sell Whitby's Pact, Add Andy Kosco

MINNEAPOLIS ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Twins made room Tuesday for calling up outfielder Andy Kosco from Denver of the Pacific Coast League.

They announced the sale of pitcher Bill Whitby's contract to Charlotte of the Southern Association. Whitby is with Charlotte now. It left the Twins one under the protected list limit of 40, and Kosco can be promoted Sept. 1 when the major league player limit of 25 is lifted.

South African Girl Breaks World Swim Record at 12

BLACKPOOL, England (AP) — Swimming three years ago to — Karen Muir, a timid, 12-year-old swimmer from South Africa, "There is no limit to what she can do."

Miss Muir bettered by eight-tenths of a second the pending world record set only two weeks ago by 17-year-old Linda Ludmington of the British Swimming Championships.

Miss Muir became the youngest competitor, either male or female, on record to break a world mark in a major sport with her time of 1:06.7 in a girls' preliminary heat. She did not enter the senior event.

"Karen has the greatest potential of any swimmer in the world," South African Coach Alex Bulley said of the shy, 111-pound youngster who took up Games.

West Allis Eliminated From Meet

Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Superior and Beloit, a pair of hardy survivors of an original field of six regional champions, tonight will stage the climax to the 5-day state American Legion baseball tournament at Goodland Field.

Superior (3-0) will shoot for its first state title in the 40-year history of the tournament. Beloit (3-1), which has won two previous state Legion titles, will try for a rare 1965 "double." Largely the same cast of players won the state high school title for Beloit two months ago.

The two finalists will battle at 5:30 p.m. If Superior wins, the double-elimination tourney will be over. But if Beloit takes the decision, an 8 p.m. game will also be needed to decide the championship.

West Allis was the only team eliminated Tuesday night in 19 innings of closely-contested and generally skillful baseball before a sparse crowd. After Superior won the 10-inning opener, 4-3, in the duel of the unbeaten, Beloit came back to oust West Allis, 6-4.

Holds 3-0 Lead

The first game was all Superior for the first seven innings, as little Jerry Beattie used an assortment of "junk" pitches to hold a 3-0 lead. But in the eighth, Beloit chased Beattie and came within an ace of winning the game.

Slow fielding by Beattie enabled leadoffman Howard Johnson to beat out a hit in the eighth. Jerry Merlet singled sharply along the left field line, sending Johnson to third. Chuck Landis' single to center ended Beattie's shutout bid.

Tom Johnson beat out a bunt to load the bases. After John Harris walked to force in a run, Beattie was replaced by fast-balling Jeff Crist, an earlier tournament winner. Crist walked in the tying run, then shut the door.

He first got John Hosterman on a pop fly. While Pitcher Dennis Schroeder was batting, Beloit tried a squeeze play, but Tom Johnson was cut down at the plate when the bunt failed to materialize. Harris was then retired trying to steal second.

Scores Uneared Run

Superior won it with an unearned run in the 10th. The first batter, Bernie Arsenneau, reached second on an error by right fielder Landis. Crist popped out. But Pat Longrie singled Arsenneau to third. Pat Walsh forced Longrie at second on a slow hopper, and Arsenneau scored the tie-breaking run.

Koufax Becomes Majors' 1st 20-Game Winner; Tops Mets

Koufax Will Get $100,000 In '66 Season

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sandy Koufax has 20 victories in the bank, a clear shot at the major league strikeout record, a virtual lock on becoming the first two-time winner of the coveted Cy Young Award and hopes of becoming the majors' first 30-game winner since 1934.

But he is already assured of an even greater reward—the honor of becoming big league baseball's first $100,000-a-year pitcher.

"He's worth it and he'll get it," said Dodger general manager E. J. (Buz)ie Bavasi Tuesday night after Koufax (20-4) struck out 14 on the way to a 4-3 victory over the New York Mets.

Extra 5,000 in Park

"Sandy puts an extra 5,000 people in the ballpark every time he pitches," said Bavasi. A check of attendance figures would seem to indicate that even Bavasi's figures are low. In Koufax's 28 starts this season, the average attendance, home and road, has been 32,847. The average for the games he hasn't pitched is 24,260. It's a difference of 8,587 per game.

The 29-year-old bachelor is reported to have signed for $75,000 this spring, after an arm injury last August sidelined him for the remainder of the 1964 season. Even then, he compiled a 19-5 record and his 1.74 earned run average led the National League for the third year in a row.

The 1964 injury, coupled with the evidence of traumatic arthritis of the elbow last spring, cast a shadow over Koufax's future, but this may be his finest sea-halfback Dave Hoppman, former Iowa State star and onetime leads the majors with 267 strikeouts in 231 innings and has won fullback John Szumczyk from 14 of his 15 starts since May 26, Trinity College.

Twins Rip Yankees, Open 8½-Length Lead in AL Race

Orioles Held to Split by Sox; White Sox' John Blanks Nats

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Minnesota Twins, who started their season with a dug-out auction, are well on the way to ending it with a World Series ticket sale.

The American League leaders stamped the New York Yankees 7-3 Tuesday night, extending their winning streak to six. "Zito was upset and embarrassed about being benched but Sam Mele to offer a cautiously optimistic view from the top.

"We've got a pretty good lead," Mele conceded after the Twins' 13th victory in their last 16 starts opened an 8½-length bulge over second-place Baltimore. "They've got to catch us now."

Mele's mood has changed considerably since spring training, when the Twins reported to camp still smarting from last season's sixth-place finish and shortstop Zoilo Versalles outbidding the manager in a much-publicized dugout dispute.

Mele yanked Versalles from an exhibition game against the New York Mets after the Cuban speedster failed to come up with a routine ground ball. Versalles objected and Mele fined him $100.

"Make it $200," Versalles snapped. "All right, it's $200."

Mele said "Why not $300?" per-sisted Zoilo. He got no argument from Mele and the bidding was closed.

"Like an Auction"

"It was just like an auction," Mele recalled after Tuesday night's game, in which Versalles' hustle was a key factor in their winning streak to six. "Zoilo was upset and embarrassed about being benched but I had a point to get across as a manager."

"Versalles has played tremendous ball ever since. He's done a great job for us."

The Orioles fell another half-game behind Minnesota when they divided a two-night double-header at Boston. The Red Sox won the opener 15-5 with a 12-run explosion in the fifth inning. The Orioles rebounded 12-5 in the nightcap behind Bob Johnson and Brooks Robinson.

Los Angeles defeated Cleveland 5-2. Chicago whipped Washington 6-0 and Detroit blanked Kansas City 3-0 in other AL night games.

The Twins shook the Yankees with five unearned runs in the eighth inning. Versalles starting the rally by stretching a hit into a double and scoring the lead run on pitcher Pete Mikkelsen's two-out throwing error.

Run-scoring singles by Jimmie Hall and Don Mincher, and a two-run double by Earl Battey, completed the winning burst.

Mickey Mantle cracked his 16th homer for New York in the eighth off winning pitcher Jim Kaat. Mikkelsen took the loss in relief of Whitey Ford, who retired for a pinch hitter as the Yankees pulled even at 2-2 in the seventh.

The Orioles gained a split against the Red Sox as Johnson collected four hits, driving in four runs, and Robinson knocked in five runs with a homer, triple, single and sacrifice fly.

Felix Mantilla and Dalton Jones rapped two hits and drove in three runs apiece in Boston's fifth-inning uprising that decided the opener. It was the biggest inning in the majors this season.

Collects 6 Hits

The Red Sox' Carl Yastrzemski collected six hits in the doubleheader, raising his AL-leading batting average to .334.

Joe Adcock and the Angels past Cleveland with a two-run homer and run-scoring single while Marcelino Lopez picked up his 12th victory. The Indians' first run, in the sixth, ended their string of 44 scoreless innings against Los Angeles pitching.

Chicago's Tommy John blanked the Senators on four hits for his 10th victory and Danny Cater paced the White Sox' attack with three hits, including a two-run homer.

Dave Wickersham of Detroit, also fired a four-hitter in the Tigers' victory over Kansas City. Wickersham has won five of his last six decisions after dropping eight of his first nine.

Bert Campaneris had two of the Athletics' hits and stole his 39th base, tops in the league.

Feels 'Strong and Young' Night Off Was Tonic Ed Mathews Needed

By KEN HARTNETT

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Veteran Milwaukee Braves' third baseman Eddie Mathews, 33, who was mentioned as trade bait before the season, also drove in a run with a first-inning single.

Mathews was rested last Thursday night while southpaw Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers was beating Milwaukee.

The night off was the tonic Mathews needed. In 17 at bats "Now he's got the hot bat. He's aggressive at the plate," said Manager Bobby Bragan in discussing the rest cure which Mathews prescribed for himself.

Mathews needed 17 at bats since he has collected nine hits, including three home runs, and driven in 10 runs.

"I feel real strong and I feel real young," commented Mathews Tuesday night after his 25th home run of the season had carried the Braves to a 5-3 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Trade Bait

Mathews, 33, who was mentioned as trade bait before the season, also drove in a run with a first-inning single.

"Eddie was getting a little stale, mentally and physically," said Manager Bobby Bragan in discussing the rest cure which Mathews prescribed for himself.

Mathews needed 17 at bats since he has collected nine hits, including three home runs, and driven in 10 runs.

"I feel real strong and I feel real young," commented Mathews Tuesday night after his 25th home run of the season had carried the Braves to a 5-3 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Red Becomes Third Pilot to Get Supoena

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A lot of funny things happen in baseball, observed Red Schoendienst, who became the third National League manager to be served, as a club official, with notice of Milwaukee County's federal antitrust suit first time since 1960. He already has 72 RBI.

"I was expecting it," said Schoendienst who became the third National League manager to be served, as a club official, with notice of Milwaukee County's federal antitrust suit first time since 1960. He already has 72 RBI.

Schoendienst, now manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, was heading Tuesday night for Milwaukee County Stadium where he starred on the Braves' pennant-winning teams of 1957 and 1958. He was interrupted by a self-subpoena.

"If I can keep from getting on the suit, seeking to block the Braves' 1966 move to Atlanta, I think I can have a helluva year," Mathews has always been a was. "You can't tell about this streak hitter plagued by unex-game. A lot of funny things plainable slumps Before regaining his batting eye, his aving the question of erage had slipped to near the which way the ball would bounce in court. Schoendienst day night's game hitting 246, did elaborate just a little more "Right now I'm real confident on what hops it might take in at the plate," Mathews said, the pennant race.

"I wouldn't be surprised if it hit and when I know no one would up in a three-way tie," he said.

Angler Takes Record Trout Dean Chance Displays His Old Form

Rainbow Caught Off Door County Weighs 13 Pounds, 10 Ounces

CLEVELAND (AP)—For two hours and 29 minutes Monday night it looked like 1964.

Los Angeles Angel Right-hander Dean Chance, who won the Cy Young Award as baseball's top pitcher a year ago, regained his '64 form after a Wisconsin record rainbow trout season of frustration.

Chance limited Cleveland to the astonishment of old hands to the astonishment of old hands who rarely fish Lake Michigan struck out 10 in pitching the waters for trout.

Angels to a 9-0 triumph.

Carl A. Toland of Havana, Ill., was trolling on Moonlight Bay, a famed bass hangout on the lake side of the Door County peninsula when he hooked his 30-inch fish.

The previous state record for rainbows was 13 pounds 8 ounces, caught in the Brule River in 1960.

The state has been stocking some rainbows in Door County waters for years in hopes of establishing an annual run similar to that in the Brule and other streams emptying into Lake Superior.

Navy-Notre Dame Contest Sold Out

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — All tickets to the Navy-Notre Dame football game Oct. 30 in South Bend have been sold, ticket manager Bob Cahill said Monday.

It is the second Notre Dame home sellout this season. Last week the Irish announced all tickets for the Southern California game Oct. 23 were sold.

'Go, Arnie, Go' In Ligonier, PGA Stands for 'Palmer Golf Association'

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — The "Go Arnie, Go." A bank has taken out highway billboard advertising the Professional Golfers Association championship. "Arnie, Put It In The Cup."

Several hotels and inns have oil portraits of the big guy with the sloping shoulders and infectious grin.

The difference should be spelled out at the beginning. Otherwise, to the casual observer and the non-golf nut, it would be pretty confusing.

Not that Arnie dominates the tourney. In fact, he's never won it. Nor is it that he's the game's dominant figure at the moment. Not at all. The fact is that he is having his troubles, struggling and scrambling and balefully watching his No. 1 position slip into the hands of Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player, fellow members of Golf's Big Three.

But you couldn't tell it from the signs.

Everywhere you look—with apologies to Kipling—"It's Arnie this, and Arnie that, and Arnie is the one."

In this pleasant valley in the rolling hills of Western Pennsylvania, the golfing millionaire from nearby Latrobe, Pa., is the greatest hero they have had since some now half-forgotten military figure of the French and Indian Wars was around when the town was Fort Ligonier.

Giddings, Lewis, Haen and Roloff Teams

KAUKAUNA — Haen Insulance (10-0) remained undefeated in the Junior Softball League last week, taking a default win from the Post-Crescent.

John Mattek is leading hurler with a 9-0 record while Gary Efla, with a .560 average, leads the hitters. Other top hitters are Don Heindel .550, and Chuck Luehring .500.

Giddings and Lewis (8-3) split in two games last week, but Ed Van Zeeland has a 5-0 pitching record and Reed Kevin Steffens with a .464 average. Next are Giordana with .435 and Mike McMorrow with .421.

Roloff Manufacturing, (7-4) tops the PeeWee League, after breaking even in two games.

for the University of Wisconsin, Peck doubled in the third to make it 2-0. McCauley singled in another run in the fifth.

Crist, with three strong innings of relief, took the win. Schroeder, who went the route, absorbed a hard-luck loss. He struck out seven and walked two. Beattie, the starter, allowed six hits in seven frames (pitching to five batters in the eighth), while walking four and fanning two.

Beloit bounced back to lead most of the way against West Allis, which has been weakened since its first tourney appearance by the disbarment of four players because of a curfew violation. Despite being down 5-0, after five innings, West Allis made it a close game against the team which also handed it its first tourney loss (13-3).

Beloit scored one in the second on a walk to Tom Johnson, an error by pitcher Jim Enlund and a single by Duane Heikkinen. Beloit made it 4-0 in the third on a 2-run double by Tom Johnson and a run-scoring double by Harris A. Winger. Beloit made it 5-0 in the fifth.

Winger Chased West Allis came to life in the sixth to chase starter and winner John Winger. Dan Adams and Marc Belich singled. Adams was forced out at third, but Enlund bled to center to load the bases. Jim Moriarity walked to force in a run. After a strikeout, by new pitcher Schroeder, Dennis Waldera singled.

Landis tripled off the right field fence to score Beloit's final run in the sixth. West Allis chipped away for one in the seventh, on Adams' run-scoring double, and made it 6-4 in the eighth on a wild pitch.

A reaching, glove-handed stab of Adams' leadoff smash in the ninth by Schroeder (who had switched from the mound to left field) saved probable embarrassment for Beloit. Belich followed with a double that would have scored Adams. John Grundy retired the next two batters to save the victory.

Enlund fanned 12 in his routine performance, but he allowed 10 hits.

PITCHING — Dave Wicksham, Detroit, pitched a four-hitter for his fifth victory in 22 days after winning only once before that as the Tigers blanked Kansas City 3-0.

Siewers Stops Berggren; Highway '9' Still Unbeaten

A no-hitter by Dave Siewers for Northside Advancement, in the Roosevelt division of the Appleton Little League, sparked action on last week's card.

Siewers led Northside to a 3-0 win over Berggren's. Don Werner slugged a pair of homers and won one game with a 13-strikeout performance as Badger Highway boosted its record to 16-0 in the McKinley division. Badger beat the Police Department, 13-2, on Werner's 3-hitter and defeated Southside Athletic Club, 26-1, on Mike Recker's 6-hitter.

A 1-hitter and a 2-hitter also highlighted action. Joe DeNoble hurled the 1-hitter and hit a triple as Northside beat Miller Electric, 4-0, in the Roosevelt division, and Dave Tebo allowed just two hits as the Fox Sox trapped Miller, 6-0. Gary Voelz slammed a homer for the Fox Sox.

'As Long as I Have My Timing'

Groza Has No Plans to Quit

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Lou Lounds, the kick is going to be changed greatly during his 19 years in the game. Groza does not date back to the blocked for sure.

"I'm going to play the string out," said Groza when asked the usual question about how long he could go on. "As long as I have my timing, I'll keep going."

Groza did retire in 1960 after he hurt his back in training camp. In 1961, he was supposed to be a coach but came back when Paul Brown needed a kicker. He is the all-time scorer in the NFL with 1,102 points, plus 259 in the All-America Conference.

"A kicker can get in a slump and start pressing, just like a baseball player who suddenly can't buy a hit," said Groza. "Every now and then you hit a dry spell. I think that is what happened to Paul Hornung last year."

Groza doesn't agree with those who claim the point after touchdown is automatic. "A Mechanical Thing" "It's a mechanical thing," he agreed. "But you have between 1.3 seconds and 15 seconds to get it off. If you take two seconds, you're out of business."

Duck Flights to be Smaller This Fall, Experts Predict

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. ernment experts had bad news today for duck hunters.

"The fall flights of ducks are expected to be no better than last year in the Atlantic, Mississippi and Central flyways and to show a small decrease in the Pacific flyway."

Director John S. Gottschalk of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife warned that the mallard breeding population this year was at the lowest levels since reliable surveys were started in 1947. He said the population must be allowed to increase.

Walter F. Crissey, reporting on the 1965 status of waterfowl for the bureau, said statistics showed that the mallard breeding population was the lowest of record "and I think we must conclude that continental (hunting) regulations last fall were to liberal, at least for the mallard."

Giardello Will Defend Title Against Tiger

NEW YORK (AP) — Middleweight champion Joey Giardello is confident he will beat Nigeria's Dick Tiger again in their Oct. 21 title fight at Madison Square Garden.

"I don't think Dick can change his style and his style suits me," said Giardello Tuesday.

Rockne, Leahy Hold Highest Percentages

John Vaught Tops List Among Active Football Coaches

By BOB HOOBING
Boston Herald

Written for The Associated Press

Knute Rockne represents the ultimate in college football coaching success 35 years after his last Notre Dame team took the field.

Okay, his locker room orations "win one for the gipper" are passe. But as a man who could lure talent, get the most out of it and organize a winner there's never been anyone quite like the raw-boned Norwegian immigrant.

The two stand far ahead of the field in the all-time rating of major college coaches who played their trade more than a dozen years. Another pair who crack the top 10 — Frank Thomas and Sleepy Jim Crowley — learned what they taught the hard way under "Rock."

19 Game Streak

Just prior to his untimely death in a plane crash, Rockne whipped his famed "Shock Troop" teams of 1929-30 through a 19-game unbeaten streak. For his 13 years at the helm, the record shows 105 victories, 12 losses and five ties for an .897 percentage.

Leahy was 107-13-9, .892 over a similar span at Boston College and Notre Dame and boasted a 39-game unbeaten string with the Irish. At South Bend he turned out six unbeaten clubs to Rockne's five but the latter was more consistent.

The late Gen. Robert Neyland of Tennessee occupies the third position because he devoted 21 seasons to building Vol greatness on sweat and the single wing. His .848 batting average is only .003 ahead of the one post-bellum deciding run in the Los Angeles sixth.

Juan Marchal won his 18th game against eight defeats by limiting Pittsburgh to four hits, one of them Bill Virdon's two-run homer in the ninth. Len Gabrielson's two-run single in the eighth supplied the Giants with their winning margin.

2-Run Double

Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson led a Cincinnati attack that carried Sammy Ellis to his 15th victory against seven defeats. Robinson highlighted the Reds' three-run first inning with a two-run double while Pinson doubled and socked his 18th home run.

Jim Bunning set Houston down on five hits and figured in both of the Phillies' runs. The pitcher sacrificed Bobby Wine to second from where he scored on John Briggs' single in the fifth. Bunning, now 14-7 with two straight shutouts, also singled in the eighth and scored as John Callosan singled.

Defacing the Birch Society Billboard

The defacing of the John Birch Society's billboard on U.S. 10 near Weyauwega can only be regarded as a foolish and intemperate act.

If whoever was responsible for this immature act did so because he disagrees with the society's beliefs, he has violated a fundamental rule of our democratic society, that being the right of an individual or organization to hold and express their political beliefs without fear of intimidation or persecution.

The fact that the society has been criticized for its beliefs and is regarded by some as a harmful political organization does not give an individual the right to take measures which infringe on the society's rights to freedom of speech and assembly.

If we express our disagreement with the political beliefs of others through physical violence, intimidation or destruction of property, we are chipping away at the very cornerstone of our political structure.

Let us not forget that political organizations, whether of the right, left, or center are guaranteed their rights for a very important reason—the perpetuation of our democratic society.

The New Finance Director

Congratulations are in order to Henry C. Schreve, a certified accountant on the staff of the Wisconsin Department of Audit, who has accepted the position of Appleton finance director after being one of the top-rated candidates for the post.

That two others declined to accept the position over a period of several months does not cast any reflection in any form, shape or manner on the qualifications of Mr. Schreve who was appointed to the post by Mayor Mitchell.

The appointment, incidentally, came after the mayor received results of examinations from the State Bureau of Personnel and a special committee interviewed the top-ranked aspirants for the position. The Common Council has confirmed the appointment and Mr. Schreve will become head of the important finance department Sept. 1.

We extend to Mr. Schreve best wishes on behalf of the community for a long, successful public career in Appleton. Again, the mayor and Common Council have made a good appointment based on merit.

The Nkrumah Peace Mission

President Nkrumah of Ghana really had a good idea in requesting a halt in the United States bombing raids of North Viet Nam so that he could visit Ho Chi Minh in Hanoi without being in danger. The polite refusal of President Johnson to the proposal will surely now be used by Nkrumah as further indication of American intransigence especially to the man who demands that his people call him "The Redeemer."

Nkrumah's effort to be the mediator in the Vietnamese war may honestly stem from a desire for peace. But we must suspect that it is more likely that he wants to enhance his own prestige. In Africa Nkrumah has not looked so good in recent months in comparison to some other aspiring African leaders. Ghana's economy is not as healthy as that of Nigeria and Kenya and even the Congo is showing some signs of progress, all without the absolute political tyranny that exists in Ghana. Nkrumah needs a worldwide event, such as ending the bombing raids or arranging a truce, to bail him out of his national problems.

As the President pointed out, any real efforts toward mediation are welcomed by the United States. If Nkrumah wanted to arrange a cease-fire in Viet Nam, he would also have to get Ho to order the Viet Cong to end their terroristic raids. But that side of the matter has not been mentioned.

The President pointed out that any plane carrying Nkrumah would not be endangered by the United States nor are we yet bombing Hanoi. But Nkrumah does not seem to be as much interested in a real cessation of hostilities as he does in ending the bombing which the critics insist might escalate the war. This is a one-sided affair and can not be taken seriously as a real effort to end the war fairly.

But it should have been expected from a man who runs his nation with an iron hand, imprisons political opponents and spends public monies to build statues of himself as the savior of his country.

Tito Friendly Again

The government of Yugoslavia has gone on record again and again as strenuously opposing the United States stand in Viet Nam. But this week editorials in newspapers began to tone down their antagonism. Since the newspapers are government controlled, or at the very least operate at the whim of Marshal Tito, this attitude obviously reflects some official standing.

A possible reason could be the visit of roving United States Ambassador Averell Harriman who seems to be able to discuss things quietly if firmly even with our adversaries. Tito even invited the ambassador to lunch at his home.

But economics also probably is playing a part. Unlike Indonesia, Yugoslavia does not want to scorn United States aid. Its recent devaluation of its currency and higher prices is a drastic step toward financial reform and it is likely the country will need outside help. In addition, there has been a serious cutback in grain produced in the country this year due both to usual Communist mismanagement and extremely bad weather and disastrous floods.

After all, if Tito is going to put out a plea for more surplus American wheat, he doesn't want us to remember too vividly the names he's been calling us about Viet Nam.

Looking Backward

'Here He Goes, There He Goes!'

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Aug. 12, 1865.

Emphy-headed Washburne has declined to stand his hand for the gubernatorial nomination of political Mohammedanism. This leaves the field clear for Gen. Lucius Fairchild who, it is asserted, still refuses to modify his opinions upon public matters and is anxious for the supremacy of Anti-Bank, Anti-Tariff and Anti-Monopoly measures, but a little more anxious to be Governor.

This result flattens Hastings for State Treasurer, the favorite of the Rag Barons and State Nabobs, because it is entirely improbable that even the willing serfs to the Madison Regency can be induced to see the propriety of conferring the Governorship and the State Treasury upon Madison residents.

Just now, William F. Smith, the modest Senator from the unenlightened portion of Dodge County, a Banker and Financier of good repute, stands the best chance for nomination.

Upon the whole, we think the blue-eyed scion of the Regency will have to rub out Hastings' name and write another upon the slate. We hope not, however.

Allan Ekvall and Ron Peyer of the Hearststone Club of Whiting Memorial Baptist Church, Neenah, were in charge of the transportation for the church outing and picnic at the American Baptist Assembly at Green Lake.

Mrs. Alton Schnetzer was the new president of the Willing Workers Community Club. Mrs. Lillian Quant presented a book review at the meeting at the home of member Mrs. Irving Quandt, route 2, Neenah.

New officers of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club in Appleton were Mrs. Charles Hall, president; Mrs. Donald Munson and Mrs. Arthur Lancelles, vice presidents; Mrs. Frank Hibbard, secretary; Mrs. John Stebel, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Snow, interest group chairman, and Mrs. James Cooper, publicity chairman.

closed key downtown street corners in the name of progress. Now the sadist in City Hall is at it again: Prospect Ave. was closed and traffic routed over fresh tar on Fourth Street to cap this performance. College Ave. was blocked and the alternate, Washington Street was promptly torn up for sewer work, how else would you do it?

I am sure that the many vast projects for Appleton are important and vital to our growth as a modern city, but someone must be in overall command to program and direct this work so that the mess and repetition are kept to a minimum. Our city of over fifty thousand can expect and demand much more efficiency, let's have it! Your patience, oh boy!

Here's Resident Whose Patience Is Exhausted

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Our Public Works Committee has erected a sign on East College Ave. that reads: "Your Patience is Appreciated." These same little reminders have been posted in Appleton for over two years now. I don't know about your patience, but mine has been stretched, tried and assaulted by the parade of street work in our town.

The conclusion and misdirection of road work in Appleton has been a thing of beauty. We citizens have been treated to a series of obstacle courses, road closures, bridge barricades and repetitious trench works that resemble a deliberate attempt to harass our free movement in town. Someone in City Hall hates streets and people with a vengeance. Perhaps it's a Communist plot to demoralize the people of Appleton. Anything is possible. It's been fun. I recall last year's trucks, close Prospect and Memorial and route traffic over Third Street, across slit trenches and lightly covered tank traps; then closing two bridges who cares about getting to the hospital?; mine shafts on Walnut Street with air hammer accompaniment through midnight; Badger Ave. closed, sewer work on Elm Street, then Superior made a one way street, it's been a ball. Project 70, not to be outdone by the City, promptly

Taylor Says

It's Time to Take Inventory of Our Commitments and Capabilities

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

An inventory-taking time is overdue in this period of great events. For sound policies are impossible at home and abroad without looking at the balance between our responsibilities and our capabilities.

Taylor

Our responsibilities involve four great confrontations:

1. The merciless certainty that the Sino-Soviet menace will continue. Russian troops still stand within 3 miles of the Rhine, and Cuba remains a Soviet bastion fringed with fire. President Kennedy forecast the Sino-Soviet drain on us for at least another generation.
2. The long-range potential in our Southeast Asia war. This is an unlimited commitment, like all other responsibilities in this enumeration.
3. We drafted 1.8 million Americans for Korea. Will we ultimately need fewer now? About $80 billion defense dollars were spent between 1945 and 1950, and yet an adequate Army, Navy and Air Force was not available. Are we really better prepared now for a ground war in Asia? Is Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's overworked computer just spinning its reels?

This column recently pointed out that for four years McNamara has supplied the Viet Nam needs chiefly by stripping equipment and inventories from combat units in place elsewhere.

I cited the deep concern of many U.S. military leaders about the combat readiness and backup of the Atlantic Fleet, our Seventh Army in Germany, and the status of the personnel, equipment, spareparts, and replenishment stock, etc., of our strategic reserve divisions in this country to meet other simultaneous emergencies since the Viet Nam attrition. Meanwhile providing merely one planned plane, the C-5A transport, will cost more than we spent to create the atom bomb from scratch.

3. The protection of the U.S. dollar and —indivisible—the British pound. The full implications in our monetary responsibility, although less widely publicized, make these nearly as consequential as the Sino-Soviet menace.

Our "balance of payments problem" is really a soft definition or our gold crisis. Federal Reserve Board Chairman William Mc. Martin puts this in perspective: "We're in an emergency situation. Unless it is solved there is a very real danger that we could have a world depression." Yet on July 29 our gold reserves hit still another new 27-year low.

Now inventory the British side, for the entire free world's postwar monetary system is built on the dollar-pound relationship and gold.

Beyond our advances and others made last November to support the pound, Britain borrowed an emergency $1 billion from the International Monetary Fund. This past May Britain drew $1.4 billion more. Both IMF credits must be repaid. Yet Britain's true reserves for this purpose are practically nil.

I leave in a few days for a trip to Communist satellite countries. Czechoslovakia, Hungary, etc., and Western Europe. De Gaulle, operationally, has all but withdrawn from NATO and the Common Market alike. Some fissures also appear in the balloon of the European boom, beyond Britain. This accounts for the timing of the trip: to see where we stand on our Atlantic responsibilities as well as in Southeast Asia.

4. The potential confrontation of the business cycle. There are many indications of a near-term leveling off which certainly do not forecast a depression. But, in the face of our responsibilities and commitments, where would even an orthodox recession leave us?

President Johnson came into office on a rising business curve. So did President Kennedy. Their promises defied the long history of business cycles—a complex, mysterious and persistently recurring enigma within itself.

What happens if the "myth" of business cycles again proves that it is not a myth at all. Should business turn down, President Johnson says the government will spend it up again. But the effect is to borrow more and dollar-depreciate. And an increase in the debt-dollar means decreased value in the wage-thirst dollar.

The effect on price levels, debt retirement, unemployment, liquidity, credit, the capital flow and the whole virtual circle of expansion promptly confronts the vicious circle of doubt, contraction and the confidence factor. And when a shot like that is fired, who can tell the distance the sound may carry or the echoes from it?

By not prudently inventorying the balance between our responsibilities and our capabilities, President Johnson looks good. But he does not look far.

Lobbyists Will Keep Busy During Months Legislature Recesses

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—When the legislature after an enervating six and one half months decided abruptly to recess its deliberations until the fall, some of the younger and less experienced members may have imagined that they would have two months of respite from the pressures and arguments and importunings of the interests and agents involved in numerous pending issues.

Wyngaard

But they are likely to be surprised. So many and so exigent are many of the unresolved questions on the legislative calendars that the recess may very well give lobbyists and others an opportunity for campaigning among members that they have not had while the legislature was actually in session in Madison.

Moreover, they will have an opportunity for communication and confrontation without the observation of colleagues, gallery visitors, legislative employees, and the professional correspondents on duty at the statehouse. More than is generally known—or believed—the professional advocate or lobbyist today uses his opportunities for between sessions persuasion and pressure.

THE PROBLEMS

More than is commonly recognized, moreover, opportunity for lobbyist communication with lawmakers during sessions at Madison has been severely reduced, first by the 1957 lobbying law revision which prohibits entertainment of lawmakers (or any other public officials) at lunch or dinner or in a bar, second by the physical reorganization of the legislative machinery.

The latter has done as much, and perhaps more, to inhibit conversations between the advocate and the elected representative as has the more celebrated prohibition of gratuities in any form.

For more than a century, the agent and pleader for special causes could visit the legislative wings of the capitol and sooner or later find the opportunity to chat with the senator or assemblyman he sought. Legislators had no private offices. They worked at their desks during the hours that the chambers were not in session. Anybody could walk up to them, and usually did.

All that has changed. The private office has become a retreat. Secretaries are barriers. Appointments are required. Lobbyists as a class find less opportunity than ever before to tell their stories — and as a group they are unhappy about it.

THE PRECINCTS

A young man who has a modest job as executive of a minor trade association detailed his woes as he sat in the Assembly ante-chamber the other day. He comes to Madison once or twice a month. But he has become discouraged. He finds it difficult to make contact with the men he wants to see.

Inevitably it will occur to this young unsophisticated agent that it is easy to travel to the home towns of these men he wants to see, during the comfortable legislative interval.

Precisely that has occurred to the professionals in the field during the last decade. It would be interesting, for example, to examine the travel accounts of some of these men during political campaign seasons. Who is more grateful than the anxious candidate for a legislative seat for the friendly and encouraging visit from an important special interest spokesman during the heat of a campaign? And if there is more involved than social chit-chat, who will ever be the wiser?

When the punitive revisions of the lobbying law were enacted protests that they serving protests that they would drive lobbyists "underground." These are difficult and delicate matters. But it is worth noting that close observers are increasingly inclined to believe that if there is illegitimate activity, it is more likely to be in the home districts than at the capital.

War Obsolete Today In Energy Revolution

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

The world is ruled by energy, in one form or another. This is the meaning of much of what we call "history"—the wars, conquests, explorations, revolutions. Men were looking for newer and greater sources of energy that could be transmuted into wealth.

Harris

In the early days, slaves were energy, along with water and wind, coal and wood. There was never enough energy in the world, never enough production of goods, never enough wealth to do away with the gross inequalities among men and nations.

Today we stand on the threshold of a new liberation of energy—an impending revolution that makes Marxian doctrine as obsolete as the dinosaur. Most of the reasons—the physical reasons—for conquest, war and revolution are simply out of date, or will be soon. It is our tragedy that we do not know it yet.

The first element in this liberation is the rise of automation. Rather than fearing the specter of automation, we should welcome it, plan for it, adjust our social, political and economic theories to it. It can be damaging only if we arrive at it unprepared and unwilling to pay the price for it.

One of the most respected men in the field, Herbert A. Simon of the Carnegie Institute, has this week published a book, "The Shape of Automation," in which he makes the categorical statement:

"Acquiring the technical capacity to automate production as fully as we wish... means that our capacity per capita to produce will continue to increase far beyond the point where any lurking justification will remain for poverty or deprivation. We will have the means to rule out scarcity as mankind's first problem and to attend to other problems that are more serious."

Secondly, it is probably that this last third of the 20th Century will see the Industrial Revolution enter its final phase — the liberation of thermionic energy, for use everywhere on the globe. This breakthrough would move us into an entirely new phase of human history, making obsolete the old concepts of work, of production, of economics.

But the great disaster of our century may be that we are hurried into a catastrophic world conflict on the basis of ideologies that are outmoded, rivalries that are meaningless, and power struggles that have no rational goals—before we have time to demonstrate that the future need not be like the past. We desperately need a new set of attitudes, a much broader perspective, to match the revolutionary aspects of our new technology.

YOUR DREAM
636 Hansen St., Neenah - A NEW listing here is a "Well-kept" 1 1/2 story home with 3 bedrooms (one up), carpeted living room. Kitchen with built-ins and a nice dinette area. Ceramic tiled bath on the first floor and a tiled bathroom. Basement is divided with a "Rec" room, 16' x 20' Garage. A real good price for a real good home!
1210 Campbell St., Neenah - Move right in! That's right... here is a Ranch Home in excellent condition with 3 bedrooms. Ceramic tiled bath (double vanity). Kitchen has built-ins and plenty of cabinets (Oak). A real here is the Carpeting and Drapes throughout. Full basement and attached Garage.
938 Baldwin St., Neenah - Another excellent 1 1/2 story home with 3 bedrooms (one down), "2" complete bath, "1 1/2" up and "1" down. Well planned kitchen with built-ins and a snack bar. Family room with fireplace. Carpeted living room. Full basement and a "2" car garage.
942 Reddin Ave., Neenah - If you like the finer things in life you will certainly like this "3" bedroom ranch home decorated in Early American. In the living room the brick fireplace is surrounded by bookshelves. Kitchen has a corner sink and a lovely eating area by corner windows. Oil hot water heat and attached garage.

EYE CATCHERS
Carpeted living room, newly painted exterior, dining room, 3 bedrooms, full basement, 9 years old $13,900
Cute kitchen with many cupboards, 3 bedrooms, painted poured basement, aluminum siding, 1 1/2 car garage, cement drive, 7 years young $16,700
18' x 13 1/2' carpeted living room with foyer closet, oak floors, 3 bedrooms, nice kitchen, 1 1/2 car garage. Also screened patio with fireplace. An exceptional buy in a good location and in good condition.
1 acre of land only 2 miles south of Neenah. Brick front, attached garage, 3 bedrooms, country kitchen, carpeted living room. Very reasonably priced at $16,950
VILLA DRIVE - Here we have 2 ranches that are both in excellent condition. Carpeted living rooms, really big kitchens with built-ins, attached 2 car garages (1 has a fine screened summer porch and the other a fireplace). The owners are moving out of town and insist upon an offer. Very attractively priced. You cannot afford to miss seeing both of these homes.
We have other ranches, 1 1/2 story and split-level homes. We also have a new home under construction. We invite you to stop in our office and discuss your ideas. Plans and other items you may have in mind pertaining to real estate.

Relief Column Reaches Forces Under Siege

Briefings Fail To Silence All Policy Criticism

Most Congressmen Concur, However, With President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's briefings have not silenced all congressional critics of his Viet Nam policies, but the White House cites understanding with the legislative branch as one reason for cautious optimism.

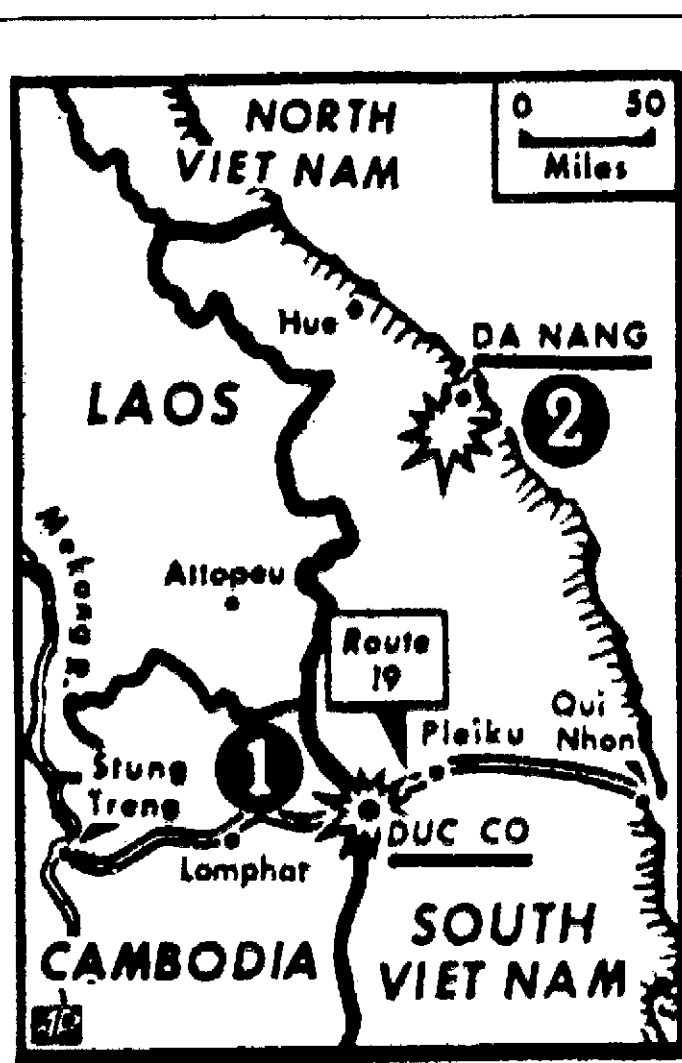

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., termed the sessions of lawmakers with the President and top officials an "exhibition of how the unpleasant can be evaded and the failures ignored." He said if efforts by United Nations Secretary-General U Thant do not succeed by next year, "the United States will be placed on a war footing entirely comparable to that of the Korean War."

Morse spoke in the Senate Tuesday, a day which saw two briefings at the White House for House members, with a third scheduled today.

The Senate Republican leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, told a news conference he is satisfied Congress "is in substantial agreement with the President's policy."

Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, said in a speech to an International Air Cadet dinner the bombing of North Viet Nam is necessary "because the Communists are forcing our hand — because they intend to take over South Viet Nam and make this an example for the rest of Southeast Asia."

House leaders expressed cautious optimism after Tuesday's briefing, and later White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers was asked the basis for it. He said understanding between the executive and legislative branches is helpful, reports have come through of increased Viet Cong losses and there is a feeling of general support in the country. But he said Johnson is not speaking glowingly of the situation at the briefings.

A Government Relief column on Route 19, between Pleiku and Duc Co (No. 1) today succeeded in lifting the siege on the outpost near the Cambodian border. In the north other Viet Cong guerrillas Tuesday poured mortar fire on U.S. Marines' positions near Da Nang (No. 2). (AP Wirephoto)

Vietnamese Soldiers Meet Little Viet Cong Resistance During Drive to Outpost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam strategic cross-country highway (AP) — U.S. military sources in way.

Pleiku reported a large Viet Cong special forces camp at Duc Co tonight with little resistance from the Viet Cong.

A two-mile convoy of infantry and armored detachments had been fighting its way westward for three days through guerrilla ambushes and roadblocks in an effort to break the siege lines that have ringed Duc Co since June 3.

How many of these troops may have been involved in the final push was not disclosed. But at the last previous report all were within six miles of their goal, a western outpost 220 miles northeast of Saigon on a

The Viet Cong were reported to have moved in behind the relief force and again cut Route 19, the only land route to government-held territory, in several places.

Both government forces and the Viet Cong have suffered heavy casualties in the fighting in and around Duc Co, whose neighboring villages are all flying Viet Cong flags.

U.S. sources in Pleiku, the corps headquarters 30 miles northwest of Duc Co, said "We have been waiting for weeks for permission to clear the Viet Cong out of this natural highway from Cambodia into Viet Nam. We have enough forces there now to try and do the job."

'Project Surveyor' Model Shot at 'Make-Believe Moon'

Test Is Critical Rehearsal for Unmanned Lunar Landing in Fall

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A metal model of the Project Surveyor spacecraft was rocketed toward a make-believe moon today in a critical rehearsal for an unmanned lunar landing scheduled later this year.

An Atlas-Centaur rocket thundered away from Cape Kennedy at 9:31 a.m. EST to propel the dummy spacecraft on an intended 63-hour journey to an empty spot in the sky 240,000 miles away.

The target zone is on the path the moon follows as it orbits the earth, but about 30,000 miles from the moon's present position.

The space agency set the "paper moon" course to obtain trajectory data for an attempt scheduled in the last quarter of this year to land a Surveyor spacecraft gently on the lunar surface to determine if it is strong enough to support vehicles carrying astronauts.

Two Major Goals The practice mission had two major goals: — It was the fifth launching of the Atlas-Centaur and was to determine the ability of its guidance system and hydrogen-powered second stage to send a payload the size of the 2,150-pound Surveyor on a precise path to the moon.

Engineering data was sought on a dynamic model of the spidery Surveyor vehicle. The payload is a replica of the real thing and was wired to record temperatures, vibrations, strains and noise during the critical launching phase. It also carried a radio transmitter to

Hanoi Claims 30 U. S. Planes Down in August

TOKYO (AP) — Hanoi radio said today 30 U.S. aircraft were shot down over North Viet Nam in the first nine days of August.

"This is twice as many as in the same period last month and is clear evidence that the more the U.S. aggressor intensifies his aggressive war, the more determined the Vietnamese people are to defeat the enemy," the broadcast said.

Retaliation He replied that so far as he was concerned he was thinking in terms of retaliation rather than retreat. "We can foreshorten our contributions and aid to the U.N. and its agencies," he said. "After all, money talks. We are free agents to do as we choose."

Dirksen added he thinks the United States should call for a showdown in the United Nations. "There is no use kidding ourselves or kidding the world," he said. "Goldberg described as 'not accurate' a published report that he would agree to shelve Article 18 of the U.N. Charter which says countries two years arrears in payments shall have no vote in the General Assembly. The report said that after the Soviets were allowed to vote they would make a voluntary contribution to the peace-keeping fund."

Malaysian Leader Quits In Protest

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The secretary-general of the key faction in Malaysia's ruling alliance coalition party resigned today to express his disapproval of the separation of Singapore from the Malaysian federation.

Dato Syed Ja'afar Albar, executive of the 500,000-member United Malay national organization of Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman, told a news conference: "Malaysia without Singapore is illogical."

Albar, one of the chief foes of the Chinese-led Singapore government, said: "My own solution was for a truce. After all

Missing Cook Remains a Mystery

Jurisdiction Problem In 'Seven Seas' Crime

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Seven Seas, a swayed old banana boat whose last cargo was murder, has been unburied by one mystery.

But two others remain: Who has jurisdiction in the case, and what happened to the ship's cook?

Federal authorities said a crewman picked up Tuesday in the Gulf Stream in the Seven Seas' skiff told them he shot the captain and four shipmates after an argument with the skipper about Fidel Castro.

The man, Roberto Ramirez, 35, a former Cuban lobsterman, told officials he had defended the Cuban leader and that Capt. Rogelio Diaz threatened to turn him over to anti-Castro refugees

New Cabinet Post Approval Expected

Passage Due by Mid-Afternoon; Robert Weaver Likely to Get Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bill to create a cabinet department of housing and urban development comes up for a final vote in the Senate today. Passage is considered certain.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield won an agreement to limit the remaining debate on the bill which he said should bring passage by midafternoon. Sponsors estimated about 55 to 60 of the 100 senators would support the high-priority administration measure in the showdown test.

But they were sufficiently concerned about the absence of 10 of the bill's backers Tuesday to delay the vote 24 hours.

The 11th Cabinet department that would be created by the bill is intended to deal with the increasing problems of urban areas in a country which is composed more and more of city and suburban dwellers.

Negro May Get Post The core of the new department would be the existing Housing and Home Finance Agency headed by Robert C. Weaver. If Weaver should be named to the secretaryship, he would be the first Negro to serve in the Cabinet.

The Senate adopted two amendments to the bill Tuesday, both accepted by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., floor manager for the measure.

Oshkosh Race Driver Killed

25-Year-Old Man Fatally Injured in Demolition Event

OSHKOSH — Robert Madden, 25, 328 Wisconsin St., Oshkosh, died at 5:30 a.m. today as the result of injuries received during the demolition event of Tuesday night's stock car races at the Winnebago County Fairgrounds.

Madden had been critically injured at about 11:15 p.m. Tuesday when his car rolled over. He was partially thrown from the car and it rolled onto his head. Coroner Art C. Miller said he died of a basal cranial skull fracture.

The demolition race is a weekly feature which concludes the night's activities. The purpose of the race is to try to be the last car running. The cars in the demolition race are junkers.

1949 Chrysler The car Madden was driving was a 1949 Chrysler owned by Henry Stenson, 32, 232 E. Parkway Ave., Oshkosh. Stenson had sent the title for the car to the motor vehicle department, advising them it was junked. The vehicle was equipped with a seat belt, but it had no shoulder harness, which is not required for the demolition race. Madden was wearing a safety helmet at the time of the accident.

A capacity crowd of about 4,000 witnessed the accident. It was the first death at the race track in memory.

Weather Warmer, Near 85 Thursday

Fox Cities — Fair and warm tonight and Thursday. Low tonight near 62 degrees, high Thursday near 85 degrees. Light southerly winds. Appleton — Observations at 10 a.m. Wednesday for preceding 24-hour period. High: 74 degrees. Low: 56 degrees. Wind: 10 miles per hour out of the southwest. Barometric pressure: 30.10 and steady. Relative humidity: 64 per cent. Dew point: 57 degrees. Skies are clear, light dew this morning. No precipitation. Present temperature: 72 degrees.

Five-Day Forecast — Temperatures Thursday through Monday expected to average 3 to 5 degrees above normal. Normal high 76 to 81 extreme north and near Lake Michigan, 78 to 85 southwest. Normal low 55 to 62. Above normal until cooler Saturday or Sunday. Rainfall one-half to one inch occurring Friday or Saturday.

Sun sets at 8:05 p.m., rises Thursday at 5:53 a.m. Moon rises tonight at 8:16 p.m. Full Moon tomorrow at 3:23 a.m. The star, Deneb, is high overhead at 12:10 a.m.

Prices 10.1 Per cent Higher in One Year

Consolation?--Food Prices Near Peak

By OVID A. MARTIN WASHINGTON (AP) — The housewife who is paying a dime more for every dollar's worth of food than she did a year ago may be ready to swear whoever is responsible. But she may have trouble finding her target.

The Agriculture Department says different factors operated on different kinds of food staples, but the general explanation of a 10.1 per cent rise in prices is the usual one: Supplies were smaller than the demand.

Food fats and oils, for example, were in good supply in this country, but short elsewhere, so foreign customers came in and bid up prices here. On the other hand, pork supplies fell and prices rose because of purely domestic shot up during the first half of decisions: U.S. farmers became discouraged with low returns.

Muted Cheer

The department had a somewhat muted note of cheer. Prices should reach their peak this month or next and then ease somewhat but not all the way down to last year's levels.

Items whose prices increased the most by midyear included food fats and oils, meats, fresh vegetables and potatoes. Partly offsetting these advances were lower prices for oranges, sugar and coffee. Pork prices increased 12 per cent, fresh fruits 22 per cent, fresh vegetables 7 per cent, and beef 10 per cent.

It is normal for retail prices to go up a little by midyear.

That is a time when supplies are at the lowest level because it is at the end of the previous year's production and just ahead of the new harvests. But this year's price increases were above normal.

In the case of pork, slaughter fell off nearly 10 per cent. In the case of beef, prices advanced largely because of the shrinkage in pork supplies and a consequent small reduction in total meat supplies.

Lower Meat Prices?

The department expects some easing off of beef and pork prices later in the year. It may be another year before total meat supplies reach 1964 levels. That's because it takes time for an improvement in meat animal prices to be reflected in larger supplies.

Prices of fresh vegetables the year because of reduced production and supplies. Factors included adverse weather during the late winter and spring in some producing areas and a reduction in acreages of some vegetables because of farmers' fears they would not be able to get enough labor.

But in recent weeks, vegetable production has increased. Supplies are now larger than a year earlier and prices have turned downward. High prices for potatoes reflected largely the fact that last year's fall crop was short. Growers who had received lower prices had planted fewer acres.

Reduced production of some early fruits, also, was reflected in higher retail prices.

New London Schools Begin Classes Sept. 2

Expect 2,200 Pupils To Attend Classes For Fall Semester

NEW LONDON — More than 2,200 children are expected to begin classes in New London District schools Sept. 2 when the 1965-66 term officially gets underway.

Students who will attend Washington High School or Lincoln Junior High School are to report to the schools between 9 a.m. and 12 p.m. Aug. 23 to pick up their materials for the school year and pay their fees for the year.

Any students that have recently moved into the district or have not previously been registered will be registered at these times and have class schedules prepared.

Fees Remain Same

Fees will remain the same as last year Robert J. Sutter, high school principal, said. The board of education Monday set the fees as $10 for high school and $4.50 for junior high school.

The high school fees include towel service, locker rental, activity book, textbook rental and other miscellaneous items. The junior high fees cover similar items.

Washington High seniors are to report to room 105, juniors to room 103 and sophomores to room 104 for their materials. Freshmen and new students are to report to the main office Aug. 23.

Pupils to Report

Junior high pupils are to report to the main office at Lincoln School.

Elementary pupils who attended school last year will not have a registration day. All students that will be attending New London schools for the first time this fall are to register with Elementary Supervisor Jerrold Naffier between Aug. 23 and 25.

Naffier will be at the Lincoln School Aug. 23, the Sugar Bush School Aug. 24, and the Readfield School, Aug. 25. He will be at the schools between 9 a.m. and 12 p.m.

School will be in session for a full school day on Sept. 2.

Fire Levels Barn Near Navarino

NAVARINO — Fire destroyed a barn and other farm buildings owned by Harry Erb on the former Adolph Peterson farm near here Monday afternoon.

Destroyed were the 40 by 80-foot barn, a granary milk house, a silo and combine. The Navarino Volunteer Fire Department arrived at the scene but the flames, whipped by a strong wind, had already destroyed the buildings.

Cause of the blaze is undetermined. Erb owned the farm buildings, while the Petersons own the house.

Fondness for Ice Cream Reveals Culprits in Theft at Bath House

NEW LONDON — Five youngsters, seven to nine years old, were apprehended following the theft of $23.35 from the bathhouse at Hatten Park Monday evening.

City police said the youths gained entry by crawling through a partially-open window. They took the money from the cash register.

Generosity and taste for ice cream led to their downfall. Some of the youths were treating a number of their friends at a custard stand when they were picked up.

Question of 24-Hour Protection

Outagamie Board Tables Resolution to Add Five Men to County Patrol Staff

After hearing Outagamie County Traffic Patrol Sgt. Lowell Veitch say he doesn't think more patrolmen are needed, the county board Tuesday afternoon laid over until September a courts, justice and enforcement committee resolution which would add five new patrolmen and establish 24-hour police protection in the county.

"If the board sees fit to let us run our own department," Veitch said, "and allows us $1,200 or $1,500 overtime each year, we can do the job with what we have now."

Veitch has been acting head of the department since late May when Capt. Ronald Decker became ill.

Veitch's ideas on police protection weren't shared by another law enforcement official who appeared before the board, however.

Spice Disagrees

Sheriff Calvin Spice said, "I disagree with the sergeant that Waupaca Police Sgt. Donald Fabricius test drives the new utility vehicle the city has purchased for the department. Chairman Questions Vote, New Count Defeats Motion

Expanded Waupaca County Staff Will Give Weyauwega Patrolman

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WAUPACA — A resolution to rescind a 1955 resolution designating where Waupaca County traffic patrolmen will live, was defeated Tuesday, when County Board Chairman Carl Sturm questioned a replacement supervisor's earlier vote.

To rescind the old resolution, a two-thirds majority was needed and when a 36-16 roll call vote was completed, Sturm said to Fred Gehrke, sitting in for absent Supv. Carl Dretzke, (Manawa 3), "Are you sure you voted right? I thought you were going to vote 'no'."

Even with the changing of the one vote, making it 35-17 in favor of the resolution, sufficient to rescind the old resolution, Sturm said, "There is confusion and we'll vote over."

Some of the members who kept their own vote tally of the "aye and nay" votes contended the count was right, but after a lengthy discussion on the merits found that the captain can better do his job if he lives near his and the sheriff's office in Waupaca.

Board Vice-Chairman Harold Clark, Weyauwega, said Weyauwega does not necessarily want Capt. Penney living in Weyauwega but Weyauwega residents want a member of the patrol.

Expansion Approved

From all indications, Weyauwega will get its patrolman, because during the afternoon session of the board, approval was given to expand the patrol from five to six men. The Law Enforcement Committee, in its resolution to the board, asked for the expansion of the patrol by two men, but had to settle for one.

Woodrow Smith, (Clintonville 2), chairman of the Finance Committee, objected to increasing the patrol because of the increased cost. He said that 10 years ago there were 35,000 people in the county and there still are only 35,000. In this same period, the patrol has been increased from three to five, increasing the tax load on the same number of taxpayers, he said.

Capt. Penney said the work load of the patrol is increased because of traffic increase. He also said a large percentage of the patrol's budget is returned to the county each year from the fines collected. This brought questions from Sturm on how county arrests are made. Sturm reprimanded Capt. Penney for having his patrolmen operating radar on Mother's Day or in posted speed zones.

Requests by Citizens

Penney said "people also get killed on Mother's Day" and as far as operating radar in posted speed zones, it is only done when requests are received from citizens. Some of the areas

Huber Law Prisoners May Work for County

Outagamie Board Rules Jail Inmates Can Work on Courthouse Maintenance Crew

Acting on the recommendation of the public property and insurance committee, the Outagamie County Board Tuesday morning decided that, in some instances, it would become an employer for Huber Law prisoners in the county jail.

By a vote of 50-1, the board approved a resolution authorizing Huber Law prisoners to be used on the courthouse maintenance staff at a rate of $1.50 an hour so that they could be covered by workmen's compensation laws.

No Insurance

The action was taken because Sheriff Calvin Spice refused to authorize the county officials to use Huber Law prisoners on various county jobs unless they were covered by insurance. Ailes, AFL-CIO, covering employees of the Outagamie County Hospital.

Remodel Laundry

In other action the board authorized an expenditure of $5,200 to remodel the "old laundry building" at the county farm for use by the Dairy Herd Improvement Association, and approved a contract between the county and Local 980, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, covering employees of the Outagamie County Hospital.

Waged paid to Huber Law prisoners by the county would be used by them to pay their own board in the jail and to help support their families.

Supv. Sylvester Esler (Appleton 18), chairman of the public property and insurance committee, said,

The only "no" vote came from Supv. Walter Killian (Maple Creek) who objected to the county "paying guys who are in the jug who couldn't make $1.50 an hour anywhere else."

Waupaca Board Accepts Plan for Reapportionment

Proposal Will Cut Number of Supervisors From 52 to 31

WAUPACA—A redistricting plan to cut the Waupaca County board of supervisors from 52 to 31 was approved by the board Tuesday.

Two plans were presented to the board. One called for 31 members and another for 30. The plan favored Tuesday will now be presented at a public hearing before being brought back to the board for final approval at the November session. State approval must also be obtained before the plan is put into effect.

The two plans were prepared by a special reapportionment committee which was appointed in April.

In the plan which lists 31 supervisors, the smallest district, from a population standpoint, will be the Town of Little Wolf where the supervisor will represent 955 persons. The largest district will be a combination of the towns of St. Lawrence, Waupaca and the Village of Ogdensburg which has a total population of 1,475. There will be a difference of 520 between the high to the low districts.

3 At-Large Elections

There will be three districts that will have two officials. They are the districts made up of the Towns of Iola, Helvetia and Harrison and the Village of Ogdensburg. The Village of Ogdensburg will have one representative and New Union, Bear Creek and Lebanon.

Discussion on the two plans was one of the first items of business of the board Tuesday. The final vote was delayed until the afternoon session to allow supervisors time to inspect and study the maps of the two proposals. The final vote was 32 in favor of the 31-member plan and 20 for the 30-member plan.

An area in the southeast corner of the county, comprised of the Towns of Weyauwega, Caledonia, Fremont and the Village of Fremont drew the most discussion. Both plans called for the combination of the Towns of Weyauwega and Caledonia to make up one district and the Village and Town of Fremont to make up another.

Sup. Harvey Jonely, Town of Weyauwega, objected to having his town combined with Caledonia because of the short common boundary and the area between the two towns. "Along the line there is nothing but the Wolf River and swamp," he said, "not even a road or bridge connect the two townships."

Proposal Defeated

Jonely proposed combining the two towns with the village and town of Fremont and leaving two officials, but when the issue was brought to a vote it was defeated 31-21.

Woodrow Smith, chairman of the 15-man reapportionment committee, said both districts are close to the ideal population which is 1,178. Weyauwega and Caledonia have a combined population of 1,163 and the Town and Village of Fremont have a combined population of 1,024.

With such ideal populations, Smith said, he doubted if the state would approve of a plan if all four were put together because multiple representative districts are frowned upon by the attorney general, who must make the final approval.

Recommended Plan

The recommended plan which will now go to a public hearing is as follows: They are listed as district, individual population, total population and number of county officials each will be allowed.

Clintonville, 4,778—four; New London, 4,066—four; Waupaca, 3,984—four; Manawa, 1,037—one; Weyauwega, 1,239—one; Marion, 1,200—one; Towns of Dupont, 682; Wisconsin, 293, and Village of Big Lake, 114—total of 1,094—one; Town of Larrabee, 257—one; Village of Embury, 257—one.

No Action Taken by Board

Waupaca Camping Ban Criticized, Praised in Letters to Supervisors

WAUPACA — Letters upheld the decision to close the parks and opposing county board action which will close Waupaca County parks to campers after Jan. 1966 were read Tuesday during the county board session.

No action on the decision to close the parks was taken by the board because of the meeting's heavy business load. The park issue is expected to be discussed in full at the November session.

An area in which camping of any type was strongly opposed is that surrounding the 33-acre county park in the Town of Farmington near the Chain O'Lakes. A small portion of the park is now used as a picnic area with the remainder being undeveloped.

Oppose Decision

Letters opposed to the park closing, and asking for rescinding of the ordinance came from the Marion Advancement Association; Marion Lions Club; City of Waupaca and the state director of the National Campers and Hikers Association; Carl Williams, Neenah, which has jurisdiction over the parks, approved a recommendation from a member of the Chain O'Lakes Advancement Association to install rest rooms and also allow the members to install playground equipment.

Okay Recommendation

During a tour of the county parks this summer, the education and agriculture committee, L. Williams, Neenah, said in his letter the county's action is contrary to that taken by the other communities of the way for Symco, allowing just state who welcome campers. He said the county will experience a more cost in maintaining their parks from 10 picnickers than it will from 100 camping families. Dennis Vaughn was the winner in general promote the camping areas. limited the Tigers to five hits when campers are in a park and vandalism is also held at a minimum, he said.

One of the main reasons for the decision to close the parks is the lack of sanitary and water facilities. The board, at past meetings, has discussed the cost of constructing rest rooms and learned that the cost for even pit type facilities is high. Problems in maintaining the parks has also been experienced in the past.

Lieschow Fans 21 In Symco's 10-5 Victory in BABA

Rain forced postponement of all but two games in the Badger Amateur Baseball Association over the weekend. In the completed contests, the central division's Symco defeated Big Falls, 10-5, and Eau Claire Dells, 10-5. Williams beat the Birnamwood Tigers, 7-0, in the northern division.

Frank Lieschow paved the way for Symco, allowing just five hits and fanning 21. Lieschow's 14-hit attack and Jim Buschke had three singles. Dennis Vaughn was the winning pitcher for Dells. He limited the Tigers to five hits and slammed a homer himself when campers are in a park and vandalism is also held at a minimum, he said.

Clintonville Post Plans Banquet

CLINTONVILLE — The regular meeting of the Tilson-Strechlow-Klitz American Legion Post will be at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Veterans Memorial Building to plan a banquet Aug. 18 for Legion baseball players.

The next steak fry of the Legion will be Sept. 9 at the association members to install playground equipment.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Heavy rain has broken the two-month long drought in Maine and eased conditions in other parts of New England. Thunderstorms rumbled across the region Tuesday with scattered parts of the Southeast heavy rain, hail and strong winds in some sections. More than two inches of rain fell in central parts of Maine. Showers had hit most drought areas of the Northeast since Sunday. Amherst, Mass., was doused with 4.5 inches of rain in 24 hours. Thunderstorms that struck areas in the West Tuesday were accompanied by gusty winds in some areas, including Tonopah, Nev., and Pocatello, Idaho. The most of the region Early morning wind squalls stirred up clouds of blowing dust across parts of the Southwest desert. Cool air covered the Great Lakes region, with temperatures dropping into the 40s and 50s. Clear skies prevailed in the South Viet Nam. Tuesday along with Adin John H. LBJ Loves to Spring News of Appointments

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Whether he's in a bathrobe or a rose garden, President Johnson loves to surprise when he names a man for a big job.
And secrecy about the announcement before Johnson makes it! That's become a byword at the White House.
It goes so far that even those closest to Johnson, like Bill D. Moyers, his very able press secretary, sometimes appear left in the dark about who's getting the prize.

While this technique saves an appointee the embarrassment of public speculation about his merits for a job before he gets it, it also assures Johnson the maximum publicity.
But so far the men Johnson has picked for the highest government posts have met with wide approval. And so have most of those he's named to jobs a notch or several notches lower.
Life in Politics
Thus Johnson is answering those who wondered what kind of people would be brought into government by a president whose whole life had been in politics.
Sometimes Johnson may delay for months in making up his mind, which might indicate he has searched everywhere for suggestions on the best possible man and then slowly winnowed the possibilities.
But there are times when he apparently decides in a hurry, gold official city seal, depicting which he seems to have done in a windmill, is being placed on the case of Abe Fortas, whom the city's 52 vehicles and will be he appointed to the Supreme Court, although since Fortas was his friend and helper for 30 years there was plenty of time to figure the right place for him.

Federal Funds to be Used for Emergency Center in Racine

MADISON (AP) — The State Bureau of Civil Defense reported today that the federal government will provide $288,460 for an emergency operating center in the planned $2.2 million safety building in Racine.
The building will house the Racine Police and Fire Departments and the emergency center will be located in the basement. The facility will be used by the city and Racine County for disaster operations, the bureau said.

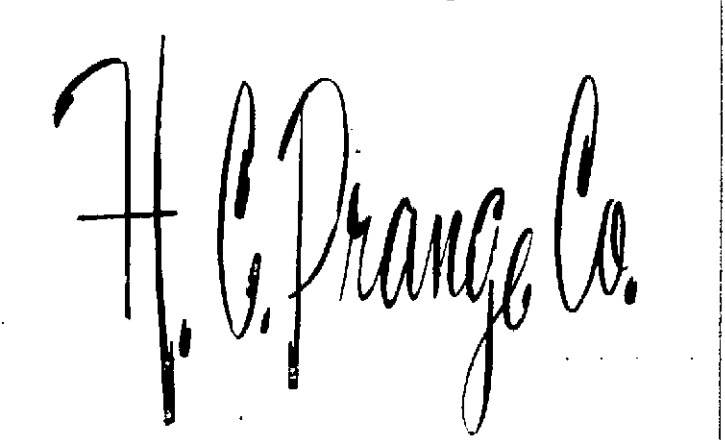

Amsterdam to Stop Showing Its Underwear

AMSTERDAM, N.Y. (AP) — This Mohawk Valley city no longer will display its civic underwear in public.
A newly-designed blue and gold official city seal, depicting which he seems to have done in a windmill, is being placed on the case of Abe Fortas, whom the city's 52 vehicles and will be he appointed to the Supreme Court, although since Fortas was his friend and helper for 30 years there was plenty of time to figure the right place for him.

When Robert F. Kennedy resigned as attorney general last September to run for the Senate, his No. 2 man, Nicholas Katzenbach, took charge of the Justice Department.
Civil Rights Fighter
Katzenbach seemed a likely choice for Kennedy's job. He was an able lawyer, a legal scholar, a former professor of law at the University of Chicago, and he had made a name as a fighter for civil rights.
But Johnson delayed for months. Then on Jan. 28 he invested Katzenbach and his wife, Ann, at dinner at the White House. Katzenbach said later the President was ill in bed with a cold but got up, put on a bathrobe, joined his guests and Mrs. Johnson at dinner, and there broke the news to Katzenbach that he would be the new attorney general.

Perhaps Johnson searched for advice before picking a successor to Adlai E. Stevenson, who died July 14, as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations. But on July 20 he named Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg.
Greatest Publicity
In doing so, Johnson combined drama and surprise for the greatest possible publicity. There had been a multitude of guesses about the new ambassador, but nobody seemed to have thought of Goldberg.
At about 10:30 a.m. on the 20th, reporters were led into the White House rose garden to watch Johnson greet some U.S. ambassadors back from Africa for consultation.
When this was over Johnson turned back to his office, saying over his shoulder to the news-men: "I'll be back in a moment." And he was.
But with him he had Goldberg, Mrs. Goldberg, and their son, Robert. Then Johnson announced Goldberg had "accepted the call of duty," given up his lifetime seat on the Supreme Court and would be the new ambassador.
The next question: Who'd get Goldberg's place on the court? Some of the guesses had the job going to a woman, to a Negro, to Fortas, and to others. Fortas was the one most often mentioned.
The day after Goldberg's appointment, Moyers was asked about Goldberg's successor. He said: "I have seen all the names quoted in the press and I don't think any of those are names that the President is giving consideration to."
Then Johnson chose his nationally televised news conference on July 28 to say he had picked Fortas.
It has been reported that Johnson asked Fortas, a famous lawyer with long experience in the government, to take Goldberg's job within an hour or so after asking Goldberg to go to the United Nations.
Fortas may have delayed his answer but it seems a good guess Fortas was Johnson's choice from the start.
In some other top government jobs Johnson very probably did do extensive searching before deciding.

Children's Concert Held At Peninsula Festival

Delights Audience of Young Music Lovers

BY JACK RUDOLPH Post-Crescent News Service
FISH CREEK — Once upon a blind animal cookie time there was a little boy scamper about in the finale as whose friends all called him if they can see better than different reason). The little boy knew a lot of children's songs, and when he grew up he didn't forget.
One day (way back in 1938) he made up a musical piece about some of the old songs because he thought other boys and girls might enjoy them, too. Tuesday afternoon a lot of them did, thanks to a sparkling performance of LaVahn (Blondie) Maesch's "Suite on Children's Tunes" during the Peninsula Music Festival's annual Young People's Concert.
Maesch, Appleton, is director of the Lawrence University conservatory of music.
Not Easy Work
The boys and girls who heard the piece (some of them were older than Blondie) could be thankful, though, that they didn't have to learn it. Maesch suite may be based on children's tunes but it is not child's play.
The three-movement work is loaded with tricky variations on the themes, bouncing from one section of the orchestra to another on a complex rhythmic pattern that darts unpredictably in all directions. Even the three animal cookie mice scamper about in the finale as if they can see better than anybody else.

Middle Lullaby
Contrasting this cheerful, in-exhaustible energy of childhood is the lovely middle section, an unhurried, crooning lullaby.
The suite, first work of the present dean of the Lawrence University music department to be presented here, was one of a number of interesting highlights of a thoroughly enjoyable after-noon Dr. Thor Johnson seized the annual opportunity to introduce his audience, large and small, to some of the lesser-known instruments, building the program around the trombone, oboe, flute, clarinet and harp.
Trombone Concerto
In the process he offered what is probably the American premiere of Henri Tomasi's concerto for trombone with Mitchell Ross as soloist. Ross gave a brilliant exhibition in a work that was possibly a bit too sophisticated for the younger portion of the crowd, but, as Dr. Johnson acknowledged, he didn't have much choice. Little music has been written for the penetrating but warm toned and remarkably agile slip horn.

Lutherans Will Start Facility For Retarded

Wisconsin Synod
To Establish Board
To Oversee Project

WATERTOWN — Delegates to the 38th biennial convention of the 358,000 member Wisconsin Evangelical Lutheran Synod meeting here authorized the appointment of a board of directors to establish an institution for the full time care of the mentally retarded.

It is estimated on the basis of statistical incidence that there are about 10,000 cases of mental retardation among the 358,000 baptized membership of the synod. Of this number, according to experts, about 1,000 are in need of institutional care.
Evaluation Okayed
The proposed board of directors was authorized to evaluate a suggestion that such an institution be established in connection with the Wisconsin Lutheran Convalescent Home in Milwaukee. The kind of institution suggested is a type to provide custodial care for the older mentally retarded.
The delegates were told that such a home would be a "stepping stone to a full program of care for the mentally retarded."
The Wisconsin synod uses the Bethesda Lutheran Home, Watertown, an institution for the mentally retarded, supported by the synods formerly affiliated with the Lutheran Synodical Conference. According to its executive director, Dr. Clarence F. Golisch, there are 111 mentally retarded from the Wisconsin Synod in the home and a waiting list of 41.

Soviet Hotel Keepers Never Heard of Valet

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MOSCOW (AP) — It takes an edict from the presidium to get a pair of pants cleaned and pressed in the Soviet Union.

Consider the trials of the American visitor who checked into one of the largest and most modern hotels only to find he had coffee and food stains on his trousers.

He did what came naturally. He picked up the phone and called, "Valet".

The hotel desk was thrown into consternation. What is valet? An English interpreter couldn't

After a half hour of futile wrangling, the guest strode to the foyer and tried to explain in person.

"Clean and press," he said, pointing to his trousers.

"Aw, press," one of the custodians said, eyes brightening with understanding. She re-treated and brought back an iron.

"No, clean and press," the man insisted.

Clean and press — "aw, you mean weight-lifting," one of the Russian service people said.

By this time a dozen people had been brought into the act.

"No, that's clean and jerk," the man replied, his nerves now getting frayed.

"Clean — you know, wash." He rubbed his hands in a washing motion.

After about two hours, during which the visitor was served with soap and towel and two interpreters from the Intourist Bureau, the message finally got across.

The pants were left at the service desk.

to his room, the American found the pants — untouched — on his table, wrapped in a three-day-old issue of the government paper Izvestia.

He got on the phone. More wrangling. "Take them to the second floor," he was told.

Finally, a girl took the pants, collected one ruble — $1.11 — and said the guest would have the garment back in three days.

"I must," the man said. "I am leaving for Warsaw Monday."

Wednesday, August 11, 1965

Saturday came. No pants. Sunday, still no pants. The girl who contracted to do the job was not at home. She may be sick, the hotel said, and may be not back for a week or so.

"But the pants?" the man asked. He got a shrug.

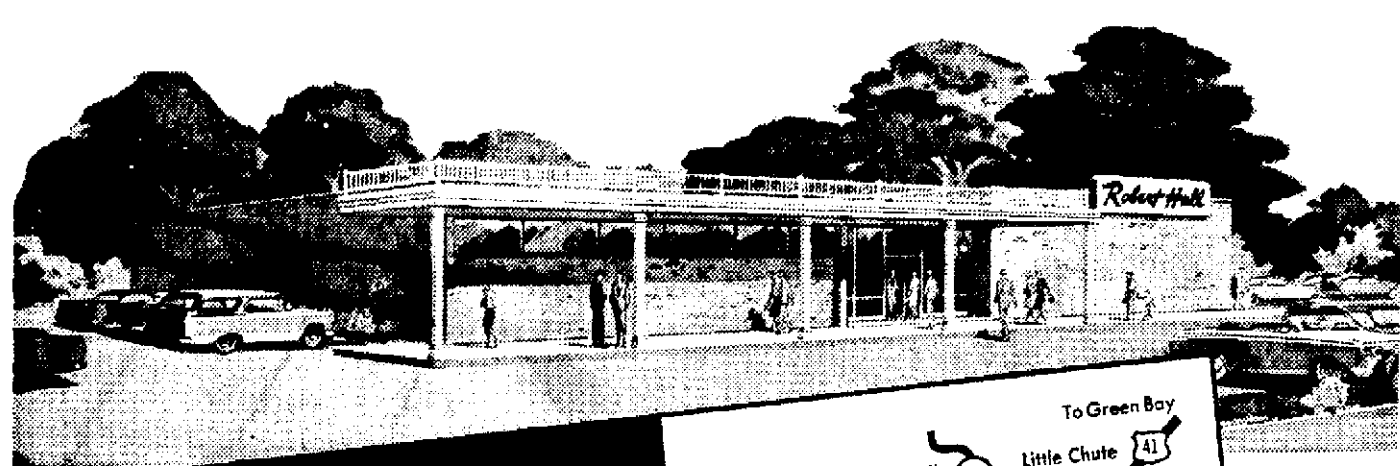

Another round of conferences ensued. The entire staff of the hotel, it seemed, was rushing around attempting to find the missing pants. Phones rang. People jabbered excitedly.

Intourist which handles travel, accommodations and other problems of visitors to the iron curtain countries, came to the rescue.

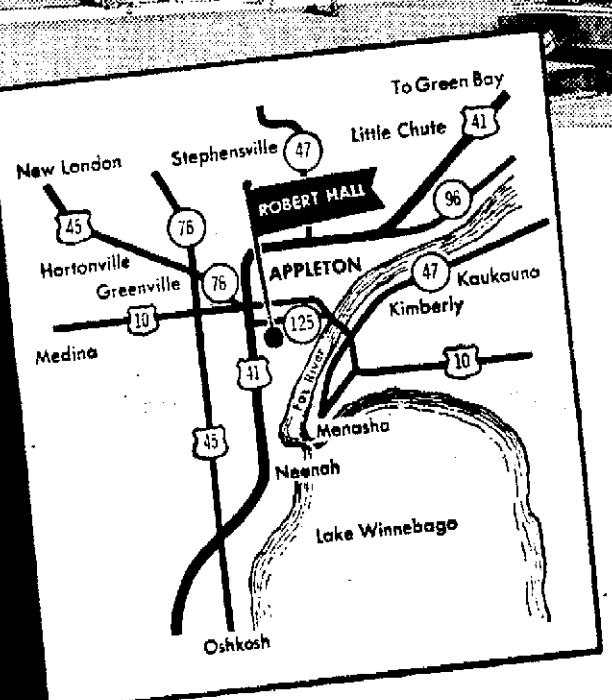

"When the pants are located," an employee said coldly "they will be sent to the U.S. ambassador in Warsaw."

The ambassador to Warsaw has been told to be on the lookout for a pair of gray slacks, freshly washed, ironed, starched — and unwearable.

Woman Who Has Her Purse Stolen May Find It Costly

If your purse is snatched or have lost may be only a small part of their ultimate loss. what steps should you take to try to protect yourself from legal liabilities (theft to the police as soon as which may grow out of the you can, giving them the best description you can of the thief, if you saw him. If your purse was snatched, notify the police immediately. Perhaps the bank can help catch the thief by giving notice that a person trying to cash your checks may be using stolen check forms. Notify Companies If you have credit cards in the stolen purse, notify the companies which issued the credit cards immediately after the theft, by telephone or telegram. Some credit cards are equivalent to contracts which require you to pay for anything charged on the credit card, even by a thief, until you notify the company of the loss of the card. For your own protection, read the contract provisions on your credit cards now so you can give the company such notice as
